

MAKES A PLEA FOR WORLD COURT PLAN

John A. Tittsworth Declares Nations
Can Adjust Differences as Individuals Do

ADDRESSES KIWANIS CLUB

Court Might be Weak at First, But Difficulties Could be Adjusted—
Committees Announced

The World Court plan was discussed today by John A. Tittsworth, local attorney, in an address to the Kiwanis club, in which the speaker urged every member to use his power to reduce the evil of war, by encouraging the establishment of the World Court.

The speaker pointed out that the court could be organized so that foreign countries could adjust their difficulties, just as an individual does in the courts of this country.

Mr. Tittsworth urged each member of the club to assist in the world-wide movement to abolish war, and he outlined in detail the plan of the World Court as the only possible remedy where nations could lay before the bars of justice, their grievances with each other, and in this manner, war would be averted.

He pointed out that possibly a court would have weak places at first, the same as any newly organized business would, but a failure at the start, should be no reason for not making it a success. The failures could be overcome by improving the plans, and in time, the World Court would come to be recognized by the peoples of the earth, as the one place to settle disputes, he said in closing.

The recently elected officers of the club also announced their new committees today at the luncheon, and the various chairman of those committees are as follows:

Inter-city relations, J. T. Arbuckle; attendance, P. H. Chadwick; business methods and standards, Ed. H. Pitman; Classification, C. L. Bebout; Education, Henry V. Logan; finance, J. B. Morris; grievance, J. B. Kinsinger; house, Will Tremmer; pool.

Laws and regulations, Robert Mansfield; music, Lloyd Nelson; program, O. R. Zimmer; public affairs, A. L. Riggs; publicity, John H. Kiplinger; reception, Will P. Jay; sergeant-at-arms, J. K. Allen; decorations, Frank Priest; boy's work and under privileged children, Clarence E. Walden; sunshine, Omer Truesler; transportation, E. K. Plunkett.

Curtis Hester was named supervisor of all of the above named committees.

SNOW STORM TO FOLLOW RISE IN TEMPERATURE

Heavy Fall Predicted For Tonight,
After Break in Cold Wave and Sub-Zero Temperatures

CLEARING WEATHER FRIDAY

Relief from the zero temperature of Wednesday morning, ushered this vicinity into the path of an approaching snow storm, according to the weather bureau.

With the mercury reaching three below zero Wednesday morning, the sun broke through the clouds at noon, and headed the temperature up to 24 for the highest, and there was little change from this all day today. The wind also shifted, and with heavy clouds in the sky, indications of a heavy snow storm were predicted by the weather department.

The weather this morning was too cold to bring much snow, but with warmer temperature in sight for tonight, the weather bureau says that snow will predominate, with clearing weather and generally fair Friday.

Snow was general throughout the state, according to reports received today.

Eastern states were still in the grip of the cold wave today, eight deaths in New York City being attributed directly or indirectly to the sub-zero weather.

CARS CRASH AT INTERSECTION

Indiana State Library
Ford Coupe Driven by Frank Mullins Damaged—No One Hurt

A Ford coupe driven by Frank Mullins, was badly damaged in a collision at Second and Perkins streets Wednesday evening about five o'clock, when struck by a touring car driven by Ot Newhouse.

Newhouse was going east in Second street, and Mullins was going north in Perkins. The Newhouse car struck the rear end of the coupe, and on account of the slick pavement, the Mullins coupe was turned completely around, and a rear wheel was broken completely off when it struck the curb. The axle was also bent, and the fenders damaged. The Newhouse car was not damaged to any great extent. Mr. Mullins was accompanied by his daughter Miss Lillian Mullins, but none of the persons were injured.

RECORDS IN SHAPE FOR TERM OPENING

Civil Suits Numbering 135 and 26
Criminal Cases Pending in the Circuit Court

NOVEMBER TERM NOT BUSY

Report of Clerk Shows, However,
That 84 Actions Were Disposed of
—New Cases Filed

Court records are being put into shape for the opening of the new term in the circuit court, which convenes Monday, and everything will be in readiness by that time. There are 135 civil suits pending trial in court, and according to the list made by Leonard Barlow, the clerk, there were 84 actions disposed of during the previous term.

Although the November court term was not characterized as having been an unusually busy one, yet in the cases disposed of, about two-thirds of them were settled by court judgments, and only a few trials held.

The jury was not used much, and the report of Sheriff Hunt for jurors, was the lightest one he has made since holding the office. With the civil court docket containing 135 cases, there also are 26 criminal court cases on the docket.

In the case of John F. Joyce against Chester M. George, a suit heard recently in which several attempts at settlement were made, Judge Sparks sustained the verdict of the jury awarding the plaintiff $10 judgment. The action is one of those peculiar cases in which the winner loses, because the cost also was assessed to him, and the total costs amounted to $36.45. The jury costs in the case, which are borne by the county, will reach from $130 to $140, it was figured.

Several new suits have been filed in court, most of them being complaints of a minor nature, and involving claims against estates.

William Gahimer is plaintiff in an action against the estate of August Gahimer, the claim being for $350 judgment.

Charles M. Phillips has filed a claim against the estate of Theodor Phillips, with the plaintiff seeking $1,275 judgment for services rendered the deceased.

Walter S. Ryse has filed a claim against the estate of Sarah Ryse, the demand being for $550 judgment, and is set out as being for services rendered the deceased in taking care of her farm for eleven years, from 1896 to 1907.

A petition asking for the appointment of a receiver and for a guardian has been filed by Allen C. Hiner against Robert J. Hiner, with the suit charging the defendant with being incapable of managing his business.

Ernest Church has filed a complaint to foreclose a mechanics lien against John Clinton and others, the demand being for $190 judgment, involving the repair of an automobile.

COAL CATCHES ON FIRE

ON ANOTHER RAMPAGE!

MUSIC PUPILS WILL APPEAR

Sixty-four From Moscow School to Give Demonstration Tuesday

One of the most unique demonstrations of success under the county music supervision plan, will be given in Rushville next Tuesday noon under the direction of Miss Alice Piersol, county school music supervisor, when 64 elementary pupils in the Moscow school will appear before the Rotary club.

The pupils will display their progress in vocal work, but the feature part of the program will be the juvenile band of 36 first and second year pupils, attired in costume, and led by a seven year old girl. These 36 little musicians keep perfect rhythm and when attired in red capes, and led by the little girl, they compel closest attention and bring praise, according to Miss Piersol.

HIGHEST PEACE TIME PRICE IN 50 YEARS

May Wheat, Reaping $2.05 in Chicago at Close Wednesday. Off Cent and Quarter Today

A PUBLIC BUYING CRAZE

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Wheat dropped three cents on the first few moments of trading from yesterday's close of $2.05 a bushel. The initial opening today was at $2.03, and an outburst of selling drove it down another cent.

Many holders dropped their grain to take advantage of large "paper" profits piled up during the past few weeks. Prices strengthened and May wheat closed at $2.03.

A public buying craze, stimulated by reports of a world wheat shortage and stories of immense wealth piled up by speculators have combined to drive May wheat up to the highest peace time price in 50 years, leading grain men are agreed.

Gray Silver, president of the Grain Marketing Company, the leading farmers' co-operative organization warned that "extreme caution is necessary." He believes present prices now are "debatable ground."

James A. Patten, who years ago cornered the wheat market, said the public seemed to be "buying crazy" Patten, declaring he got out of the market when wheat sold at $1.60 a bushel, said that prices on the Chicago Board were considerably below prices on the principal European wheat markets. He is inclined to discredit some of the stories of a European wheat shortage.

POULTRY SCHOOL OPENS

WITH LARGE ATTENDANCE

In Spite of Bad Weather, About Seventy Persons Attend First Session at Court House

LEROY JONES IS IN CHARGE

In spite of the bad weather, about seventy persons were in attendance when the two-day poultry school opened in the court house assembly room this morning at ten o'clock, and with such an indication of interest in the school, it was felt that this number would be more than doubled at some of the sessions.

The school is in charge of Leroy Jones of Purdue and arrangements were made by a committee composed of Paul Glisson of Anderson township, Fred McCrory of Union township and William Reeves of Center township.

"Feeding Hens for Economical Production" and "Secrets of Successful Pullet Raising" were the subjects under discussion this morning, and this afternoon the general topics were "Common Sense Prevention of Diseases" and "Remodeling the Poultry House."

At 9:30 Friday morning a conference will be held by Mr. Jones with demonstration farm co-operators, followed by a discussion of a breeding plan to increase egg production. At this time there will be poultry judging and laboratory work. "Hatching and Rearing Chicks" will be the afternoon topics and the school will close with an egg grading demonstration.

MEETS IN SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

Ripley Township Farm Bureau
Hears H. R. Nevin of Martinsville

Approximately seventy-five persons were in attendance at the regular monthly meeting of the Ripley Township Farm Bureau, which was held Wednesday evening in the new school auditorium.

The principal address was delivered by H. R. Nevin, a farmer of near Martinsville, who spoke on "The Activities of the Indiana Farm Bureau."

Special numbers consisted of a solo by Miss Alice Piersol, supervisor of music in the Rush county schools, and three excellent readings by Miss Grace Overman of Carthage. Both the musical number and readings were well received.

I. & C. PURCHASES BUS LINE

Takes Over Company Between Indianapolis and Shelbyville

Officials of the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company have announced the purchase of a motor bus line between Indianapolis and Shelbyville. The line was operated by Roy C. Lee of Shelbyville, who also maintained an extension from Indianapolis to Bloomington. It is understood that the traction company only acquired the Indianapolis and Shelbyville portion of the line, and they will continue to operate the eight round trip schedule, until other plans are made.

The traction line is following other electric carriers in establishing bus traffic, as at present time the Interstate and T. H. I. & E. own and operate bus lines in conjunction with traction service.

U. S. TROOPS HELD READY TO RUSH TO SHANGHAI

Force in Philippines in Readiness in Case American Lives Are Endangered

SITUATION GROWING SERIOUS

Washington, Jan. 29.—The United States is holding troops ready in the Philippine Islands to rush if necessary to Shanghai where the situation has developed to serious proportions within the last twenty-four hours, endangering American lives and property.

All available American naval vessels and marine in the vicinity have been dispatched to Shanghai. The citizen volunteers corps of the foreign settlement of Shanghai has been fully mobilized to preserve order.

American, British and other foreign battleships are patrolling the harbor.

Danger of an anti-foreign outbreak is eminent in connection with looting and incendiaries of disorganized Chinese troops who are retreating to the city.

The American and foreign forces now in Shanghai are ready to be dispatched there and are ready to protect foreigners, but property destruction seems inevitable, according to authentic reports.

LEGISLATURE AT ROUTINE BUSINESS

Speed Limit of Automobiles on Country Highways Raised to 30
Miles in House Bill

HOUSE HAS BANK BANDIT BILL

Provides For Death or Life Imprisonment as Penalty—Stricter Penalties For Burglary

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29.—The state legislature got down to routine business today and disposed of a number of minor affairs.

Speed limit of automobiles on country highways would be increased from 25 to 30 miles an hour in a bill passed by the house.

The Hodge senate bill taking the mandatory features out of one change of venue laws was killed by the senate.

A measure providing for death or life imprisonment as a penalty for bank banditry was introduced in the house. A similar bill is now before the senate. Three bills providing stricter penalties against burglary were also introduced.

One would increase the penalty from ten to twenty years imprisonment and to from fifteen to twenty-five years if the burglar had a weapon in his possession at the time of the crime.

Another would provide a penalty from two to fourteen years imprisonment for the possession of burglar tools.

The third would provide a penalty of twenty to forty years for safe blowing.

Another struggle over the chiropractor bill loomed when Rep. Lee of New Paris introduced a motion to reconsider amendments adopted yesterday.

Consideration of the Homer eugenics bill for sterilization of socially inadequate persons was delayed until the senate meetings in secret session this afternoon, with visitors excluded.

The "blue Sunday" bill providing for rigid observance of the Sabbath was headed for the discard in the house today.

A similar fate was in prospect for the movie censorship bill and the bill to prohibit Sunday baseball.

The house morals committee expected to report today or tomorrow on the three measures following a public hearing Wednesday.

Representative Russell Duncan of Indianapolis, chairman of the committee, said the majority report would recommend indefinite postponement.

BUDGET BOARD IS SLICING REQUESTS

Approximately $9,000,000 Looped Off Amounts Asked by State Institutions and Departments

PRUNING KNIFE IS ACTIVE

Total of $25,000,000 Requested
Whittled Down to $16,000,000,
Which is Less Than in 1923

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29.—Cuts of millions of dollars in requests of state institutions and departments for appropriations have been made by the state budget committee in recommendations prepared for presentation to Governor Jackson and the legislature, it was learned today.

Requests of all departments and institutions, except the highway commission, totalling approximately $16,000,000.

The highway department requests have been cut from $17,100,000 annually to approximately $15,000,000 annually. This figure includes $5,000,000 of federal aid money.

The total appropriations excluding the highway commission, recommended by the committee will be about $1,000,000 less than those of two years ago.

Indiana and Purdue universities and the state normal schools will be kept within the five cent tax levy by the budget appropriations committee, it was said.

The appropriations will be made on the basis of two cents each for Indiana and Purdue and one cent to the two branches of the normal at Muncie and Terre Haute, it was said.

This amounts to $1,000,000 each for the two universities and $250,000 each for the two normal schools. Indications were that approximately $6,000,000 would be allowed for new roads on a basis of $40,000 per mile for hard surface roads.

This is approximately the sum expended by the highway commission during the past two years' road building program.

The question of whether the legislature can appropriate the federal aid to the highway commission is now before the attorney general for decision, it was said.

In changing various specific funds into the state general fund for the purpose of making appropriations, the budget commission has not anticipated the cost of the legislature in changing offices, according to information.

Such funds as students fees and others like fees at the state universities will be thrown into the general fund, but endowments cannot be so designated.

The conservation department appropriation is made on the basis of the same expenditures as in 1923. Total disbursements for the department for the past two years ran approximately $400,000.

The budget commission, it was learned, is not making any slashes, in general departmental appropriations, basing the budgets on outlays for the past two years.

It was stated on high authority that creation of the state board of safety was in no way an economy measure and that approximately the same appropriations would be made for the various departments brought under control of the budget.

The difference, however, is that the fees from insurance inspection and like fees will be thrown into the general fund and will be appropriated direct from it.

AMERICA IS MECCA FOR ALL INSECTS

Some of Causes For insects Are Large Acreages of Same Crops and Climate Conditions

TRANSPORTATION IS CAUSE

More Than Half of Serious Pests Have Been Brought in From Foreign Countries

America, the mecca for immigrants is likewise the mecca for insects of all kinds, according to a statement made by the Department of Entomology of Purdue University. Farmers, fruit growers and gardeners have in recent years had reason to believe that insects are most important as pests on the North American continent but few realize the reasons for this condition.

The reasons may be explained by an understanding of conditions as they exist on American farms, a knowledge of the fundamental principles of insect life and a correlation of these and other varying factors as are brought out in the courses of study in entomology at Purdue, both in the curriculum of the regular four-year agricultural course and in the annual eight weeks short-course which begins January 19, 1925.

Briefly, some of the causes for these conditions are the large acreage of the same or related crops, and favorable climatic conditions. The destruction of insect eating birds and mammals probably has had some effect. Many insects which formerly secured their livelihood from native plants have gone over to cultivated plants and became destructive because their native host was being killed out or because the cultivated hosts were preferred. Thus, the Colorado potato beetle originally fed only on the wild solanums of the western foothills.

Of all causes, transportation has probably been more responsible for America's insect problems than any other factor. More than half of the serious pests were brought in from foreign countries and usually without the natural enemies which usually hold them in reasonable check in their native haunts. Thus the San Jose scale, one of the worse or hard pests in Indiana was introduced into America at San Jose, California on plants brought in from China, and from there it was carried across the continent to a New Jersey nursery and in this way was soon scattered everywhere. In other cases, climatic factors govern spread after a new insect is introduced. Thus the Mexican bean beetle, introduced into Alabama a few years ago has rapidly spread northeasterly with the wind and now occurs in southern Indiana and throughout Ohio. A better knowledge of these and other factors would no doubt enable farmers better to utilize practices to prevent much trouble in the future.

Drove Stage

Jasper M. Travis, 90, of Cedar Rapids, Ia., who drove the last stage coach into New York City from Scranton, Pa., in March, 1856, says mail bandits were common then, too. He and George Decker of Deckertown, N. Y., in letters to one another, both recall the day Travis' coach was held up near Chambersburg, Pa. Two of the robbers later were shot and the third sent to prison.

Keep Out of the Puddles

COURTLY Sir Walter Raleigh — cynic, savant and first-class fighting man — desired a favor from good Queen Bess. A puddle in the queen's path made his opportunity. Across it he flung his costly cloak. Her majesty, smiling at his devotion, trod on, dry shod, and Sir Walter's unique self-advertising produced results.

Though most advertising is less spectacular today, it is far more serviceable. It smooths out the every-day pathways of each one of us.

Because of advertising, luxuries and necessities that once would have been worth a king's ransom are yours at little cost. Advertising pits merchant against merchant, artisan against artisan, manufacturer against manufacturer. This competition brings out the best there is in everything for your personal benefit.

You wouldn't know about many boons of modern life were it not for advertising. That is why you are not taking full advantage of the better things in life today if you consistently overlook the advertisements.

Stop Night Coughing This Simple Way

People who have persistent, annoying coughing spells at night, and who through loss of valuable sleep are weakening their systems and laying themselves open to dangerous infections, can stop their distressing trouble promptly by a very simple treatment. Hundreds who have hardly been able to rest at all for coughing, have gotten their full night's sleep the very first time they tried it.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The result is that you usually sleep as soundly as a babe the very first night, and the entire cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription is highly recommended for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children's coughs and spasmodic croup—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. It is on sale at all good druggists. Ask for

RUSH COUNTY RICHER YEARLY BY $120,000

Due to Soil Fertility Produced by By-Product of Dairying, Says Creamery Institute

BASED ON CAREFUL RECORDS

Rush county is richer yearly by $120,000 because of the soil fertility produced as a by-product of dairying, according to the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. The figure is based on data resulting from many carefully kept records on a considerable number of farms.

The average quantity of manure recovered for use on crop lands in the area studied was 7.4 tons per cow, and since the fertilizing value of a ton of manure of $2.60 the by-product value of each cow is approximately twenty dollars. The application of this figure to the 6,000 dairy cattle in this county brings the total added value to the soil fertility here to the almost unbelievable figure given above.

In keeping with its better feeding program the Institute estimates that from 25 per cent to 50 per cent greater profit from each ton of feed can be made by local farmers who milk cows through improved feeding methods, alone. This was demonstrated, it states, by the experiment recently concluded by the University of Minnesota. The school's dairy division about a year ago purchased four average cows with available records but without a scientific feeding ration and by merely placing them on a home-grown ration suitable to their needs, increased each cow's production almost forty per cent.

God's Wonderful Love:—For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. John 3:16.

Prayer:—O God, we thank thee for thy wonderful love. Give us believing hearts that we perish not, and may we obtain everlasting life through thy only begotten Son.

A Weighty Question

Uncle Sam is still insisting that we carry the new silver "Peace Dollars" around in our pockets, instead of thin paper bills.

The country's vaults are bursting with the 420,000,000 "cartwheels" that are stored, waiting to be used.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has declared war on the paper bill for economy's sake, but Mr. American Citizen continues to object because of the weight. A man with fifteen silver dollars is pretty well freighted.

The new silver dollars are works of art, it is related. The head of the Goddess of Liberty appears on one side and an eagle and "E. Pluribus Unum" on the other. Millions of them are being shipped to the federal reserve banks to break the back of the greenback.

At present about 60,000,000 silver simoleons are in circulation. The others, coined, about 360,000,000 in number are deposited in the treasury and silver certificates issued for their face value. Of those in circulation, however, only about one-fourth are in pockets and pocketbooks, the others being on deposit in federal reserve and other banks. These 20,000,000 or so are in circulation almost entirely in the western states, where one dollar bills are virtually unknown.

Paper dollars cost 1.7 cents to make and keep in circulation, treasury experts figure. Their life is never more than 11 months, and usually they are worn out by the end of six months. Silver dollars cost more to make, but upkeep is nothing and their life is indefinite.

The short life of the dollar bill is shown by the fact that 48,000,000 of them are printed and put into circulation every month. Several plans for "seasoning" the bills instead of issuing them immediately after printing have not been put into effect, because of the tremendous demand for the paper money.

The treasury's present aim is to break down part of the American prejudice against the silver dollar and put between 40 and 50 million of them in circulation. This will save the government $828,000 annually in its minting expenses, and will allow "seasoning" of the bills used so, as to prolong their life.

Government departments have been asked to use silver in payment of their employees throughout the nation, and field officers, of some departments have agreed to use silver dollars for all odd amounts in sums under $5. The federal reserve banks have been asked to circularize their member banks asking co-operation and assistance.

Pettiness

Nothing retards a community like pettiness among its business men or people.

Yet how many towns and small cities are free from its influence?

It is related that not so long ago, in a certain city of about 5,000 inhabitants, the merchants on one side of the court house square banded together to hold a special sale.

They secretly organized their advertising campaign and expected to take their competitors by surprise and net a big profit for themselves.

As they should have had judgment enough to know, the sale was a big failure in not coming up to their expectations and was harmful to the town because of the bad feeling it engendered among the other merchants.

Nothing is ever accomplished when the vision of a community's business men and its people is so narrow that everything done is only for personal gain.

Helpful co-operation is the only key to community success, and until this lesson is learned, no community is going to progress very far.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—A new national shrine, which will become second only in historic interest to Mt. Vernon, former home of George Washington, will be developed by the restoration of the famous old Lee mansion in Arlington national cemetery.

Even now this old mansion, which with its massive Doric portico and immense stone pillars dominates the Virginia hills immediately across the Potomac from the Lincoln Memorial, is visited by a quarter million tourists yearly.

But it is only the shell of the home in which southern chivalry and hospitality found their highest development that they see today.

The great rooms are bare and empty. Stripped of all furnishings, there is little to suggest the warmth and cheer and charm they must have held during the proud days when George Washington Parke Custis, who had been adopted as a son by General Washington, entertained there with a lavishness surpassing anything even Mt. Vernon had ever known.

NOW the House has passed a bill authorizing the restoration of the old Arlington mansion to the condition in which it existed during the days of the Lees there, and to obtain so far as possible for this purpose the original furnishings and equipment used by the Lees. It is to be hoped the Senate will add its approval.

The restoration of Arlington, in fact, would but carry forward as part of a unified scheme for perpetuating historic associations the work so far done at Mt. Vernon.

For there is a most intimate connection between Arlington and Mt. Vernon, which the public generally does not now know.

THE builder of Arlington was George Washington Parke Custis, grandson of Martha Washington. John Park Custis, his father, died at the siege of Yorktown.

General Washington, who wedded the widow Custis, John Park's mother, adopted as his own the two Custis children (grandchildren of Mrs. Washington), George Washington Park Custis and Eleanor Custis, better known as "Nelly" Washington.

Young Custis was a member of the Mt. Vernon household from the time of his adoption until after the death of Mrs. Washington in 1802. Then he removed to the Arlington estate and, in 1802, built Arlington House.

GEORGE WASHINGTON PARKE CUSTIS had a daughter, Mary. In the drawing room at Arlington, in the summer of 1831, Mary Custis became the bride of a young lieutenant in the U. S. army—Robert E. Lee.

Twenty years past, Custis has died and his daughter, Mary Custis Lee, has inherited Arlington. Civil War is declared between north and south. Robert E. Lee, now a colonel in the U. S. A., resigns from the federal service to take command of Virginia troops and later become commander-in-chief of the Confederate armies.

Today the Lee estate is Arlington National Cemetery. And with its restoration, the old Lee home will be a center of increased interest to the thousands who go there daily to visit the burial place of our dead of three wars.

Your Income Taxes

Federal Law's Provisions Explained and Questions Regarding Specific Applications of the Statute Answered by Expert.

(This is the fourth of a series of articles, dealing with the income tax and provisions of the new law.)

Thus far in the series we have discussed who is subject to tax, who must file a return, and what exemptions are allowed. We can now consider the questions of when and where the returns must be filed.

Returns prepared on a calendar year basis, as is the case with most returns, must be filed on or before March 15 of the following year. Returns covering the calendar year 1924, therefore, must be filed not later than March 15, 1925.

Returns may also be prepared on what is known as a fiscal year basis. A fiscal year means a period of twelve months ending on the last day of any month other than December. Thus, the period from February 1 to the next January 31 would be a fiscal year, or May 1 to the next April 30.

In the case of returns made on a fiscal year basis, the returns must be filed by the 15th day of the third month following the close of the fiscal year ending January 31, the return would be due by the next April 15, and if the fiscal year ended on May 31, the return would be due by the next August 15.

It is important to bear in mind, however, that the only time returns can be prepared on a fiscal year basis is where the taxpayer's books are kept on that basis. If no books are kept, the return must be made on a calendar year basis.

Now as to where returns must be filed. It is provided in the law that returns must be filed with the Collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which the taxpayer resides, or he may, if he desires, file the return in the district where he has his principal place of business. The country is divided into sixty-five collection districts, each supervised by a collector of Internal Revenue, and it is with that officer for the taxpayer's district that the return must be filed. If a person has no legal residence or place of business in the United States the return must be filed with the Collector at Baltimore, Md.

Let us now consider the tax rates. The net income of an individual may be subject to two taxes: a normal tax and a surtax. The normal tax rates begin at 2% for the first $4,000 of income in excess of the exemptions, then go to 4% on the next $4,000 of income, and finally 6% on the rest of the net income.

Thus, if a married individual, with no dependents, had a net income of $15,500, his normal tax would be computed as follows: the exemption of $2,500 is first deducted, leaving $13,000, subject to the normal tax. On the first $4,000 of this $13,000 a 2% tax is imposed or $80. On the next $4,000, the rate is 4% or $160. On the rest of the income or $5,000, the rate is 6% or $300 making the entire normal tax $540.

It is interesting to note that the normal tax rates this year are much less than what they were last year. Under the law that then existed, the tax was 4% on the first $4,000, in excess of the exemption, and 8% on the balance.

Then there is the surtax. The surtax rates range from 1% to 40%, depending on the size of the income. The lowest rate begins with incomes over $10,000. In other words, where an individual has a net income of less than $10,000, he need not pay any surtax at all. The income between $10,000 and $14,000 is subject to a 1% surtax, or $40. The income between $14,000 and $16,000 is subject to a 2% surtax; and so on up the line. Income in the $100,000 bracket is subject to 36%; $200,000; 38%; $300,000; 39%; and $500,000 or over, the maximum of 40%.

These rates are considerably less than what was imposed last year, when the maximum rate was 50%. Last year, the maximum tax rates were 58%, 50% for surtax, and 8% for normal tax. This year the maximum tax rates are 46%-40% for surtax and 6% for normal tax.

The total of the normal tax and the surtax represents the total income tax that is due, except for the special treatment accorded so-called earned income, capital gains and losses, and certain credits that are allowed. These will be explained in detail in subsequent articles.

Estates and trusts being rewarded as individuals, are subject to tax at the same rates as already outlined. Corporations, however, pay a flat tax of 12½% on their net incomes in excess of the exemption.

The difference between the tax rates on individuals and those on corporations immediately brings up the question as to the advisability of carrying on business under the one form or another. An individual does not come into the 12½% rate class until his income is about $25,000. If his income is less than that, it is obviously to his advantage to do business as a sole proprietor, because the maximum tax rate would be less than 12½% rate imposed on corporations. However, if his income exceeded $25,000, he would ordinarily be better off doing business as a corporation, since the rate of the corporate tax is 12½%. Thus, an individual having a $100,000 income would have to pay a tax of about $23,000 because of the high surtax rates. A corporation, however, making $100,000 pays a tax of only $12,500, resulting in a saving of $10,500 through the corporate form.

There are many other factors to consider, such as salaries, dividends, etc., that need be carefully studied in each particular case. As a general proposition, however, it can be said that where the income is in excess of $25,000, one is better off from a federal income tax standpoint, doing business as a corporation, and where the income is less than that amount, it is best to carry on business as a sole proprietor.

In the next article, the subject of earned income and how it affects the computation of the tax will be discussed.

Read this Remarkable Testimony Regarding Results from Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Norfolk, Virginia.—"If you only knew how many women and girls have taken your medicine by hearing my testimony, it would seem wonderful to you. Every day and every chance I have I advise some one to try it. It was in June, 1904, when I had given up to never get well, that I wrote to you. My husband went to the drug-store and brought the Vegetable Compound home to me. In a few days I began to improve and I have often taken it since. I am now passing through the change of life and still stick by it and am enjoying wonderful health. When I first started with your medicines I was a mere shadow. My health seemed to be gone. The last doctor I had said he would give me no more local treatments unless I went to the Hospital and was operated on. That was when I gave the doctors up. Now I am a healthy robust woman. I wish I could tell the world what a wonderful medicine Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is. I will be only too glad to answer letters from anywhere. I wish all sick women would take it."—Mrs. J. A. JONES, 317 Colley Avenue, Norfolk, Virginia.

BOSTON BRAVES ARE REJUVENATED

Old Timers on the Squad Will be Bench Warmers While Rookies Will Have Chance to Start

SQUAD NUMBERS 35 PLAYERS

Average Age is 25 Years and Many Minor League Clubs Have Donated Some of the New Players

By FOSTER EATON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright 1925, by U. P.)
Boston, Mass., Jan. 29.—The Red Sox baseball team, which, with the possible exception of the Braves, provides more laughs per annum, than Will Rogers and Andy Gump combined, is undergoing something in the way of a monkey-gland operation, calculated to inject new life into an aggregation that thinks the idea of the game is to finish in eighth place.

Just now it's as impossible to forecast the probable line-up as it is to estimate the number of bats Babe Ruth will break in trying to break his batting record.

But some things are certain and among them for the fact that, as in the case of that weaker sister, the Braves, veteran players must warm benches or go elsewhere while rookies from the colleges and minors try to convince a skeptical public that the Red Sox really should be taken seriously.

Youth must be served and the once famous old-timers who made their debut when the catcher was the only player who wore a glove, must now be surprised if they receive eviction notices.

This is to be a year of rejuvenation both for the Sox and the Braves. Bobby Quinn, chief mogul of Boston's American League club said today he had 35 players on the roster and that the average age was only 24.

Manager Lee Fohl will take his wigmans and warriors to New Orleans March 1 for spring training. The present outlook indicates that Jack Hering and Val Pichich will divide backstop work. But it is perfectly possible that A. J. Stokes, who bails from Mobile, will have a hand in the catching mitt.

Eight right-handers and four left-handers will comprise the pitching staff. They include Elmer, Quinn, Fullerton, Ferguson, Murray, Woods, Piercy, Ruffner, Kallio, Lacey, Wingfield and Kiefer.

Kallio comes from the Pacific Coast League, Winfield from Chattanooga and Kiefer from Bay City, Mich. All are promising rookies.

Fohl and Ross are the veteran southpaws and Wilize and Jamerson are the newcomers in this class.

Phil Todd seems likely to call first base "home" this season. Bill Wams-gans, who once made a triple unassisted, probably will start at second, though 19 year old Bill Hozell may give the older bill a lot of competition.

Young Prothero, purchased from Washington, is expected to start at third, while Dudley Lee, Geygan, and Grass will fight it out for the short-stop position. Ira Flanshead, Ike Boone and Dean Williams are the probable outfielders.

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 10c and 30c.

Markin' 'em up at Newcastle extends newspaper representatives a hearty welcome to the Sixth District tourney to be held in his city next year, promising all press representatives that they will find a welcome on the door mat from all officials. He adds also that no newspaper man will be a prominent official on the bench, "because we have a rule here that newspaper men are to see, and not be seen." There is one in particular that likes to be seen, and this fellow thinks a great deal of Rushville. Here is what he says:

THE GRAHAM CRACKERS AND THE TREE CITY FIVE WILL DO EVERYTHING BUT PLAY BASKETBALL THIS FRIDAY NIGHT—IT WILL BE A TWO-FISTED JEFFERSON AFFAIR.

Sure the above little love tap was from Free Throws in the Free Press over at Connersville. Shame on you, Emmett.

Carthage Took Moscow

Just 15 years ago this week-end, Carthage hi played Moscow, according to our "15 year ago Column"

The Carthage basketball team is elated over the result of the game Tuesday night in which Moscow was defeated 19 to 16, says the Carthage Citizen. It was the last game in the White building which has been leased by L. D. Gardner for a meat market. So far the boys have been unable to obtain another room and may be compelled to discontinue playing here.

Shortridge with 13 straight victories goes to Martinsville Friday night. No, they both can't win, someone will have to drop out. Who do you pick?

The Morton High seconds anchor their hopes at Rushville next Saturday night. The Rush county yearlings were easy on the indoor field but they are expected to be "tough customers" on the small Rushville court. —Richmond Palladium.

The Rushville seconds also play the curtain raiser Friday night down at Greensburg, and as the game ended 20 to 18 up here, the locals will try to trim 'em again.

PLAYS MUNCIE FRIDAY

Shelbyville is preparing to take a special car of rooters to Muncie Friday night. Even with 5 straight defeats, the fans down there are still having hopes of a comeback.

There is a scribe called Emmett, Wainwright is his name, What he likes best of all,

Is to run a basketball game! Now this scribe Emmett, Always thinks he's in it. But when it comes to fame, Ole Side Lights, that's the name!

You Can Have Our Place!

Muncie trounced Jefferson of Lafayette 39 to 30, and now Washington wants to climb up another notch on the Big Ten ladder, because Washington beat 'em 43 to 23.

Richmond announces their schedule for next season. In the list, they play at Rushville, January 9. They face many strong teams, and the game here is in the middle of the schedule.

HERE IS AN ODE TO MOSCOW

Moscow, Ind.

Dear Hittin' 'em:

Am sending a little poem dedicated to the Moscow high school basketball team:

MOSCOW TEAM

Moscow high school has a basketball team,

And it generally has a lot of steam,

Alee at center, with lots of speed,

Whisman at guard, as lithe as a reed

Coers is always right there too

When the ball's just aching to be put thru,

There are Thompson and Creed, who are forwards spry,

And who always arch the ball so high,

Subs! Have they any?

Well I should hope!

Headlee and Spaulding, that's the dope,

And Campbell and Cole, and there's Casey too,

I guess that's all, and I'm almost thru,

And now as I pause to bid you good-night,

All I ask of you team, is, "Fight, fight, fight!"

Dear Hittin' 'em: Rushville basketball fans who are planning to attend the sessions of the Rush County Basketball Tourney which will be held in the R. H. S. Gymnasium this coming Friday and Saturday should buy their season tickets in advance. These tickets are good for the four sessions of the Tourney and will entitle the holder to admission before the single sessions are sold for each session.

price of these tickets is $1 and each single admission will be 35c.

E. B. B.

MAIL 'EM TO HITIN' 'EM

Greensburg wants to fill their gym to capacity Friday night, according to an invitation in the Greensburg News, asking for loyal support of their team. If the place only accommodates 300 persons, why Rushville could fill it without anyone from Greensburg being there.

This Should be a Lesson to All Fans

The thoughtless actions of a few basketball fans outside the student body of Anderson high school in boisterous "dazzing" of officials, has endangered the chances of Anderson obtaining any future sectional or regional basketball tournaments it is learned on good authority.

The excited, rude cries of a few Anderson fans during the Vincennes-Anderson game have aroused the ire of a few personages high in basketball standing, and it is learned on good authority that Anderson's chances to land other sectional and regional tourneys were small unless school officials succeeded in curbing the few fans of a rowdy class who are alleged to hurt the sportsman-like spirit of Anderson with their actions. —Anderson Bulletin.

Muncie, for some reason or another likes to boost Newcastle high. Newcastle played at Muncie recently and lost 31 to 19. "Watchin' the Fools" in the Muncie Press says that the Newcastle team stacks up well with Frankfort and some of the other first runners. We'll see for ourselves in February, for Newcastle is booked to appear here. —Republican, Shelbyville.

Newcastle is plenty tough, Shelby, and don't take anything for granted in this year of unsettled basketball dope.

Life's worries—To write something about a basketball game that

Many Players Lack Brains

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United States Sports Editor)

New York, Jan. 29.—All through the discussions of the Dolan-O'Connell baseball scandal, the light-hearted manner in which major league players looked upon the case was one of its most unusual features.

The players in general sympathize with Jimmy O'Connell and they feel that Commissioner Landis went to an uncalculated extreme when he barred the young California outfielder for life because he had admitted offering a bribe to a Philadelphia shortstop. Dolan's case didn't arouse much sentiment among the players, because Dolan was not popular. O'Connell was hardly more than a kid just breaking into the only business that he knew. Dolan was an old hand at the game who was principally the detective for John McGraw when he was not passing signals along from the coaching line.

Many of the players still insist that O'Connell was made the victim of a practical joke and that too much seriousness was attached to a situation that had nothing of the criminal nature in it.

One prominent major league manager said during the winter baseball meetings that Sand was a sap for playing the tattle-tale and telling Art Fletcher, manager of the Phils, that O'Connell had offered him $500 if he wouldn't bear down in one of the last games against the Giants. This manager said also that Fletcher in passing the story along to higher officials, did not live up to the human reputation he made when he was playing shortstop with the Giants.

The intellectual rating of the average baseball player is not very high. It is surprising to learn in some cases that it is so very low.

Take the case of Frank Frisch, captain of the Giants, a star player and a college graduate. When he was being examined by Commissioner Landis, after O'Connell had repeated in his presence that Frisch knew Sand had been approached, Frisch said that it must have been a joke and has never been written before. Watching the Fools, Muncie.

Presenting Helen Wills, America's youthful woman tennis champion, also holder of the Olympic tennis title. Miss Wills is all set for a strenuous afternoon on the courts. Recently Miss Wills took up golf and is showing rare skill. However, she says golf is merely a diversion.

that lots of jokes and kiddings like that always happened on a pennant contending club.

Ross Young, Giant outfielder, who was mentioned by O'Connell as having had knowledge of the plot, testified that he had heard stories of fellows passing out money and things like that, but that he didn't have any knowledge of the O'Connell-Dolan case.

George Kelly, Giant first baseman, was also accused by O'Connell of having known that he made the offer to Sand and yet he went to California after the season closed and was ready to play on the same basketball team with the youngster who had accused him of being a part in baseball's greatest crime.

Sam Bohne, Cincinnati infielder, who is now the plaintiff in a suit against a publication that charged him with playing crooked baseball, also was signed to play on the same San Francisco basketball team with O'Connell, an outlaw.

After having had more experiences with such cases than the casual fan, it is no mystery what prompts John A. Heydler, president of the National League to say that he can't imagine the workings of some ball players' intellects.

Commissioner Landis acted quickly and drastically when he tossed O'Connell and Dolan out of baseball. O'Connell admitted his part, but Dolan couldn't remember and Landis said that his faulty memory was a proof of guilt and was as good as a confession.

Frisch, Young and Kelly were absolved for reasons that prove Landis to be a jurist. O'Connell said they were guilty and they said they weren't. With nothing but the word of one against the words of the others, Landis threw out O'Connell's story as it pertained to the other three and accepted it as it pertained to himself and Dolan.

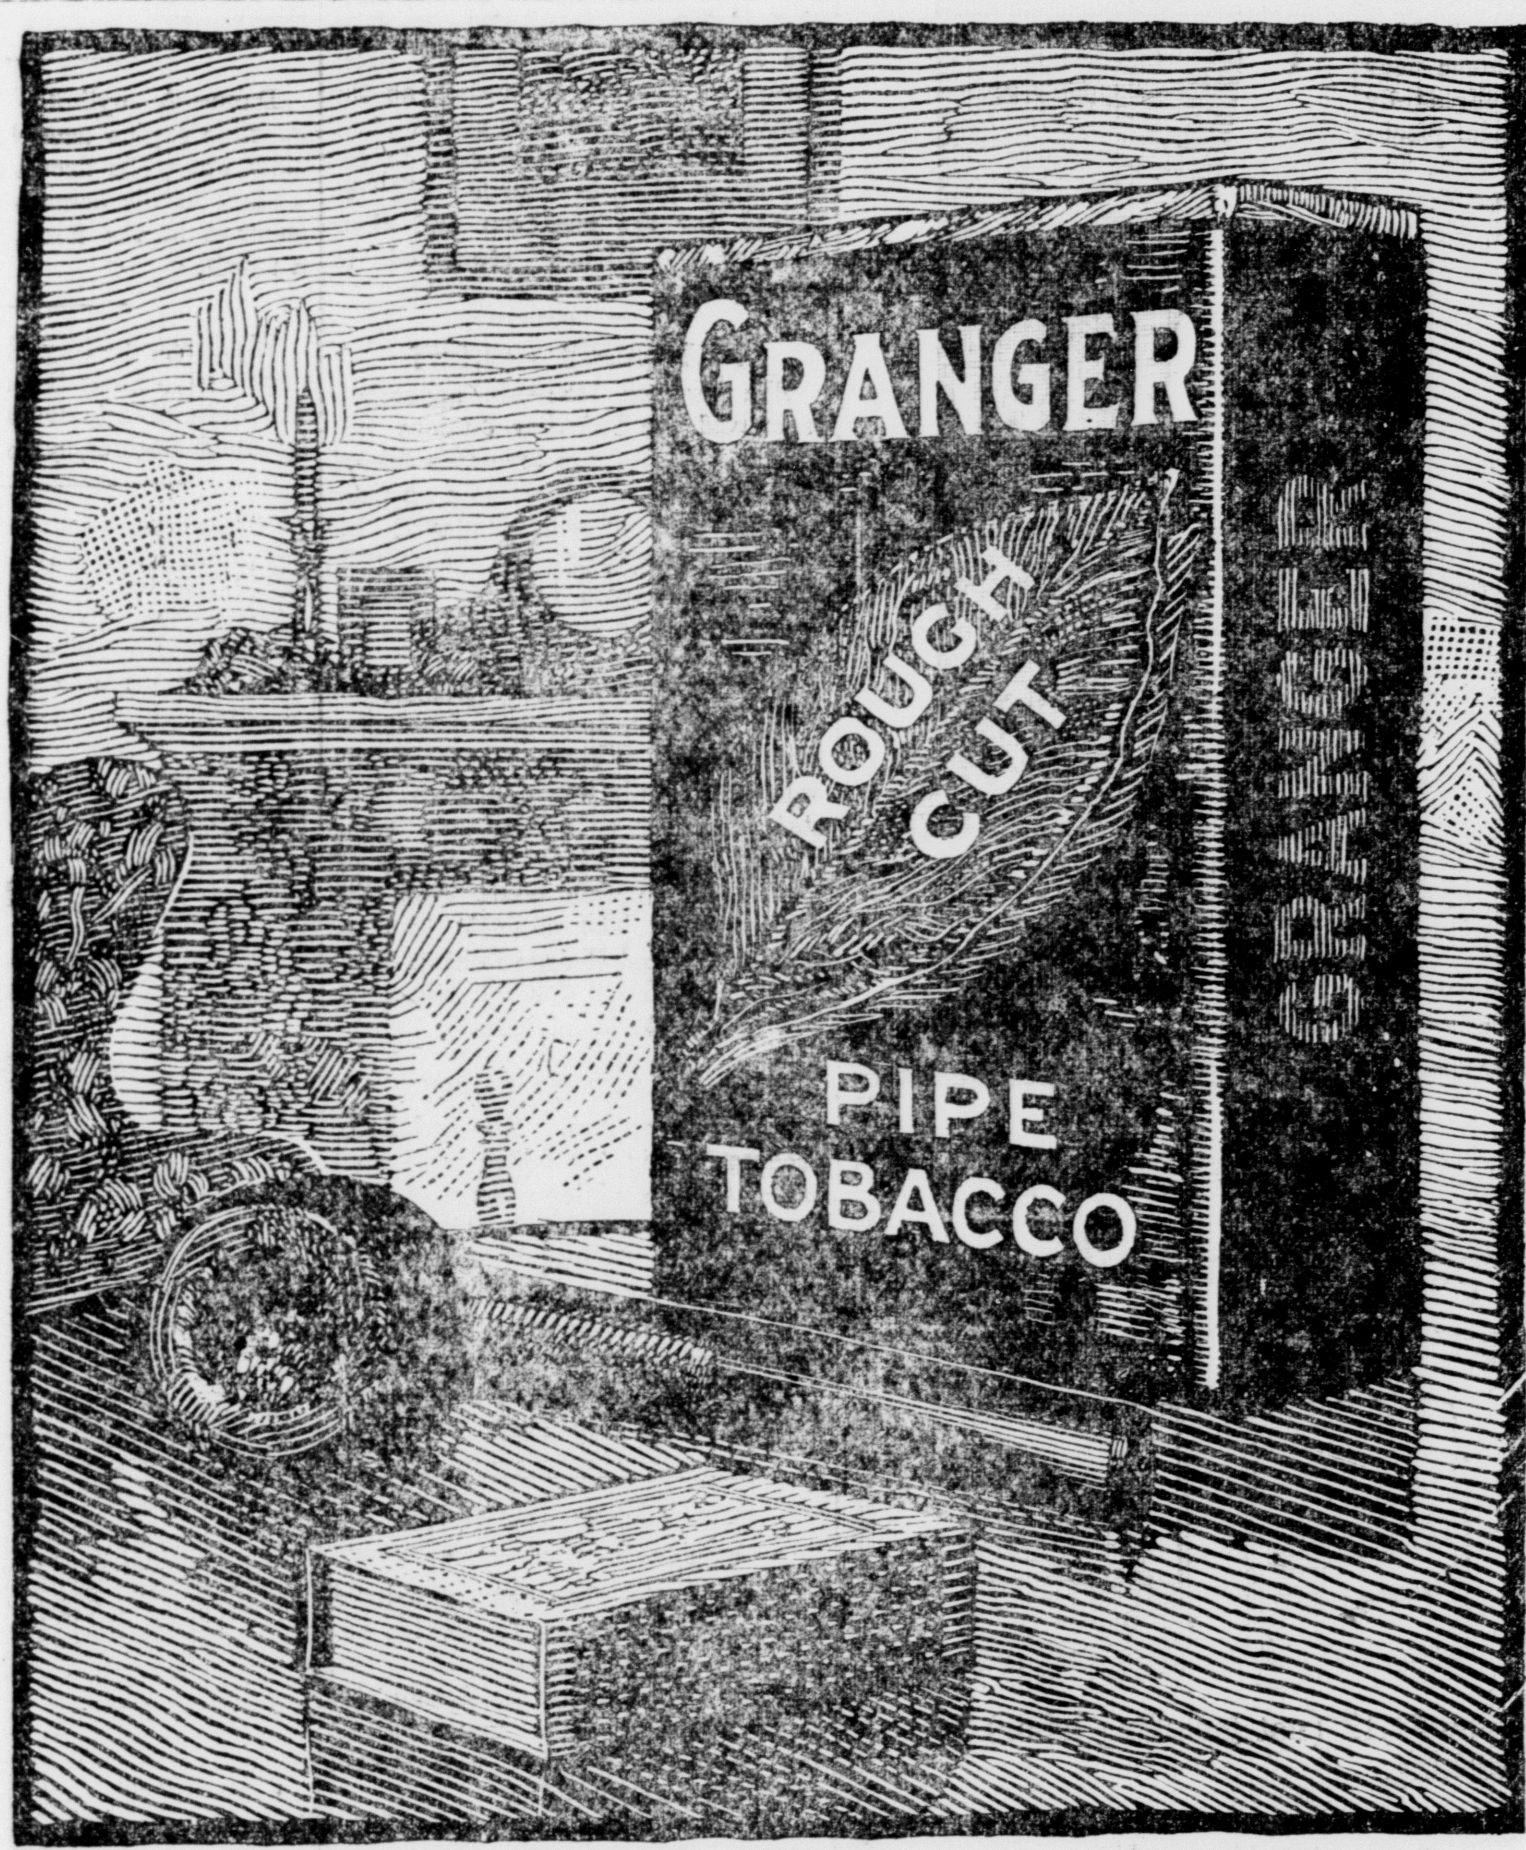

Perhaps the players, in recalling several incidents in the past, are partially right in holding that O'Connell "got the works" without any justification. Of course, Landis can't be held responsible for what happened in the past. If he had been on the job years ago there might have been only one scandal, because after the severity of his action in his first case it's a bet that there will not be any more joking or kidding on any ball club about throwing games or buying games.

The inconsistency of baseball, which is no way to be blamed upon Landis, has been shown several times. Christy Mathewson, when he was manager of the Cincinnati Reds, accused Hal Chase of being crooked, but Mathewson's story was not accepted and Chase continued to play baseball and was taken up by the New York Giants when all baseball should have been at least suspicious of him.

Then there was the Herzog-Benton case. Benton said that Herzog had offered him money to blow a game when they were member of the New York Giants and Herzog said that Benton had offered him the money. No one could straighten out the tangle and they both continued to play organized baseball. Benton is still with the Cincinnati Reds.

Phil Douglas gave Landis his first case and the Commissioner jumped on him with both feet. Douglas wrote a letter to another player, offering to go fishing for a compensation and he was canned out of baseball. The Douglas case, however, never would have been brought to the attention of Landis if it was not thought that a press association had all the facts of the case and was about to publish them.

WILLOUGHBY GETS SALARY

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29—Attorney General Gilliam submitted an opinion to Louis Bowman, auditor of state, holding that Benjamin Willoughby is entitled to the salary of justice of supreme court from the first district. The contest between Willoughby and George Denton democratic candidate for the office, is now before the legislature.

READ OUT OF PARTY

Washington, Jan. 29—Lafollette progressives in the house were read out of the Republican party today. Dispatching a call for a party caucus February 27, Chairman Wood Indiana, of the caucus, withheld invitations to the Wisconsin delegation, and Representatives Kellar, Minnesota, Sinclair of North Dakota and LaGuardia of New York.

All Over Indiana

Terre Haute—The court dismissed the charge of failure to provide for his wife against Wesley Sanders, 50, when prosecutor Littlefield declared Sanders' wife appeared at the prosecutor's office well coated with paint and powder.

Hartford City—The "reign of terror" here continues unabated. Thieves broke into the tanks of the Standard Oil company and the Guy Brothers Filling Station and escaped with 75 gallons of gasoline while police were diligently guarding every other section of the city.

Alexandria—John Eddleblute, 73, told the judge he had never made whisky because his still always boiled over, following a plea of guilty to possessing a still. The case was taken under advisement.

Dunkirk—Excitement prevailed during the funeral of Clayton Cortright here. The floor of the crowded Trenton church caved in and mourners held their breath for fear the stove would topple over.

Clinton—A teaspoonful of liquor is not enough to convict a man, Judge C. E. Bingham, ruled withholding judgment against Ray Brushner, arrested by horse thief detectives.

Brazil—Clay county is now in its 100th year and it has been urged that civic clubs here make plans for a centennial celebration.

Fort Wayne—Because of the rapidly dwindling numbers of the members of the Lawton-Wayne and the Sion S. Bass posts of the G. A. R. here, the two posts combined into the Bass-Lawton post.

Valparaiso—Surveyors have started work to determine the boundary line between Porter and Jasper counties as fixed by the 1923 legislature.

Dana—A cylinder head in the gasoline engine used to pump water blow out while firemen were fighting a blaze at the home of M. M. Jones. Damage at the home was heavy as a result.

Washington—Roy King, of Pond, near here, claims the oldest violin in the state. The instrument was made by Jacob Stainer, a German, in 1639.

Sources of Rubber Sap

The varieties of trees, shrubs, plants and vines which discharge rubber sap are numbered in the hundreds. One of the smallest and most common is the pasture gillweed, and the greatest is the Hevea Brazilensis which sometimes attains a height of 120 feet.—Automobile Digest.

Spring Suit

THE combination of plain and figured materials is one frequently met with in spring fashions. Here is a typical spring suit with striped skirt and plain coat trimmed with the plaid. The coat could be worn very nicely with a white silk skirt while the skirt would look very attractive with a sweater jacket. So it is a valuable addition to any wardrobe.

LAMBERT DENIES ASSERTIONS

MOM'N POP

Says Bill Increasing Mortgage Exemption Would Not Reduce Taxes

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29.—Assertions by Senator Russell B. Harrison of Indianapolis and John F. Brown, chairman of the state board of tax commissioners, that increasing the mortgage exemption on real estate from $1,000 to $2,000 would result in $8,000,000 tax reduction were denied today by Senator Lambert. "The decrease will be approximately $900,000," said Senator Lambert. "Some of those statements are ridiculous and I am going to show up Brown's figures on the floor of the senate."

"The state tax board is against any and all decreases in income from taxes, because that is always the attitude of bureaucrats and commissioners. I have figures to show that last year the $1,000 exemption took off only $133,000 assessed valuation."

ELECTION NOTICE

CROSS NUMBER PUZZLE

Instead of cross words—cross numbers! Here is something new in the fact that has gripped the nation. Numbers instead of letters, numbers that add to a definite sum, reading either way. You need no dictionaries to look up sticklers, not even an arithmetic. For these numbers are just the first nine digits and each group totals 15. The puzzle form and numbering of the squares are similar to crossword puzzles. But instead of definitions you get a group of numbers which are to be rearranged in the squares designated so that they will add up to 15 either horizontally or vertically, when the other groups are properly arranged. Try it and see how you like it.

Movies

Galaxy of Brilliant Players

"If all motion pictures were as good as 'The Marriage Circle,' I'd go to the movies every day of my life."

That was the enthusiastic remark overheard in the lobby of the Castle theatre yesterday after the showing of this Ernst Lubitsch production, a picture that contains such a galaxy of brilliant players as Marie Prevost, Monte Blue, Florence Vidor, Adolphe Menjou, Harry Myers and Creighton Hale.

You will wait a long time before you see a better picture than "The Marriage Circle." It is at once sophisticated and simple, humorous and serious, with its story of a discontented rich wife who begins to make things hum when she takes a fancy to the husband of her old girlhood chum. It doesn't matter one whit to Mizzie that the husband is very much in love with his own wife; no! she's too much women to see the logic of that, and she begins to turn things topsy turvy domestically.

Last Showing Today

Constance Talmadge brought a new comedy, "Her Night of Romance," to the screen at the Princess theatre last night. It was a highly sophisticated satire on English society and provoked gales of laughter from the audience.

Connie, as flippant and scintillating as ever, appears in the role of an American heiress who dons school teacher's "spees" and straight-laced demien in order to avoid fortune hunters while touring abroad with her father.

It chances that she bumps into a young English lord in London who is being hounded by his money-lender, and they become involved in one of those seemingly impossible but, nevertheless, real life situations where it is necessary for them to pose as newlyweds to avoid an impending scandal.

The situation finally clarifies itself, of course, but not before the young couple endure an amazing and highly amusing series of incidents. Constance introduces a new leading man in the person of Roland Colman, an English actor who acquires himself in the role of the British nobleman admirably. Others in the cast who do good work are Albert Gran, Jean Hersholt, Sidney Bracy, Joseph Dowling and Templar Saxe.

COMPARE YOUR BILLS

Some folks are led to believe that great savings can be effected by buying at no-service stores.

All we ask is, compare your bills, price for price, quality for quality, SERVICE for SERVICE. We believe that you will find that the cash saving has been practically nothing, that a great many times you have been disappointed in the quality of the goods bought, and besides you have missed the benefit of the advantages we offer in the way of service.

MAKES A PLEA FOR WORLD COURT PLAN

John A. Tittsworth Declares Nations
Can Adjust Differences as Individuals Do

ADDRESSES KIWANIS CLUB

Court Might be Weak at First, But Difficulties Could be Adjusted—
Committees Announced

The World Court plan was discussed today by John A. Tittsworth, local attorney, in an address to the Kiwans club, in which the speaker urged every member to use his power to reduce the evil of war, by encouraging the establishment of the World Court.

The speaker pointed out that the court could be organized so that foreign countries could adjust their difficulties, just as an individual does in the courts of this country.

Mr. Tittsworth urged each member of the club to assist in the worldwide movement to abolish war, and he outlined in detail the plan of the World Court as the only possible remedy where nations could lay before the bars of justice, their grievances with each other, and in this manner, war would be averted.

He pointed out that possibly a court would have weak places at first, the same as any newly organized business would, but a failure at the start, should be no reason for not making it a success. The failures could be overcome by improving the plans, and in time, the World Court would come to be recognized by the peoples of the earth, as the one place to settle disputes, he said in closing.

The recently elected officers of the club also announced their new committees today at the luncheon, and the various chairman of those committees are as follows:

Inter-city relations, J. T. Arbnuckle; attendance, P. H. Chadwick; business methods and standards, Ed.
H. Pittman; Classification, C. L. Be-bout; Education, Henry V. Logan; finance, J. R. Morris; grievance, J.
B. Kinsinger; house, Will Trumpohl.

Laws and regulations, Robert Mansfield; music, Lloyd Nelson; program, O. R. Zimmer; public affairs, A. L. Riggs; publicity, John H. Kiplinger; reception, Will P.
Jay; sergeant-at-arms, J. K. Allen; decorations, Frank Priest; boy's work and under privileged children, Clarence E. Walden; sum-bine, Omer Tensler; transportation, E. K.
Plunkett.

Curtis Hester was named supervisor of all of the above named committees.

SNOW STORM TO FOLLOW RISE IN TEMPERATURE

Heavy Fall Predicted For Tonight,
After Break n Cold Wave and
Sub-Zero Temperatures

CLEARING WEATHER FRIDAY

Relief from the zero temperature of Wednesday morning, ushered this vicinity into the path of an approaching snow storm, according to the weather bureau.

With the mercury reaching three below zero Wednesday morning, the sun broke through the clouds at noon, and headed the temperature up to 24 for the highest, and there was little change from this all day today. The wind also shifted, and with heavy clouds in the sky, indications of a heavy snow storm were predicted by the weather department.

The weather this morning was too cold to bring much snow, but with warmer temperature in sight for tonight, the weather bureau says that snow will predominate, with clearing weather and generally fair Friday.

Snow was general throughout the state, according to reports received today.

Eastern states were still in the grip of the cold wave today, eight deaths in New York City being attributed directly or indirectly to the sub-zero weather.

CARS CRASH AT INTERSECTION

Indiana State Library
Ford Coupe Driven by Frank Mullins Damaged—No One Hurt

A Ford coupe driven by Frank Mullins, was badly damaged in a collision at Second and Perkins streets Wednesday evening about five o'clock, when struck by a touring car driven by Ot Newhouse.

Newhouse was going east in Second street, and Mullins was going north in Perkins. The Newhouse car struck the rear end of the coupe, and on account of the slick pavement, the Mullins coupe was turned completely around, and a rear wheel was broken completely off when it struck the curb. The axle was also bent, and the fenders damaged. The Newhouse car was not damaged to any great extent. Mr. Mullins was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Lillian Mullins, but none of the persons were injured.

RECORDS IN SHAPE FOR TERM OPENING

Civil Suits Numbering 135 and 26
Criminal Cases Pending in the
Circuit Court

NOVEMBER TERM NOT BUSY

Report of Clerk Shows, However,
That 84 Actions Were Disposed of
—New Cases Filed

Court records are being put into shape for the opening of the new term in the circuit court, which convenes Monday, and everything will be in readiness by that time. There are 135 civil suits pending trial in court, and according to the list made by Leonard Barlow, the clerk, there were 84 actions disposed of during the previous term.

Although the November court term was not characterized as having been an unusually busy one, yet in the cases disposed of, about two-thirds of them were satisfied with court judgments, and only a few trials held.

The jury was not used much, and the report of Sheriff Hunt for jurors, was the lightest one he has made since holding the office. With the civil court docket containing 135 cases, there also are 26 criminal court cases on the docket.

In the case of John F. Joyce against Chester M. George, a suit heard recently in which several attempts at settlement were made, Judge Sparks sustained the verdict of the jury awarding the plaintiff $10 judgment. The action is one of those peculiar cases in which the winner loses, because the cost also were assessed to him, and the total costs amounted to $36.45. The jury costs in the case, which are borne by the county, will reach from $130 to $140, it was figured.

Several new suits have been filed in court, most of them being complaints of a minor nature, and involving claims against estates.

William Gahmer is plaintiff in an action against the estate of August Gahmer, the claim being for $350 judgment.

Charles M. Phillips has filed a claim against the estate of Theodo-cia Phillips, with the plaintiff seeking $1,275 judgment for services rendered the deceased.

Walter S. Ryse has filed a claim against the estate of Sarah Ryse, the demand being for $550 judgment, and is set out as being for services rendered the deceased in taking care of her farm for eleven years, from 1896 to 1907.

A petition asking for the appointment of a receiver and for a guardian has been filed by Allen C. Hin-er against Robert J. Hiner, with the suit charging the defendant with being incapable of managing his business.

Ernest Church has filed a complaint to foreclose a mechanics lien against John Clinton and others, the demand being for $190 judgment, involving the repair of an automobile.

COAL CATCHES ON FIRE

Coal that was piled too close to the furnace at the home of John Jordan, 916 North Main street, caught fire, and caused a severe fire this afternoon about 2:30 o'clock. No damage resulted, and the blaze was quickly checked by the firemen when they arrived.

ON ANOTHER RAMPAGE!

MUSIC PUPILS WILL APPEAR

Sixty-four From Moscow School to Give Demonstration Tuesday

One of the most unique demonstrations of success under the county music supervision plan, will be given in Rushville next Tuesday noon under the direction of Miss Alice Piersol, county school music supervisor, when 64 elementary pupils in the Moscow school will appear before the Rotary club.

The pupils will display their progress in vocal work, but the feature part of the program will be the juvenile band of 36 first and second year pupils, attired in costume, and led by a seven year old girl. These 36 little musicians keep perfect rhythm and when attired in red capes, and led by the little girl, they compel closest attention and bring praise, according to Miss Piersol.

HIGHEST PEACE TIME PRICE IN 50 YEARS

May Wheat, Reaping $2.05 in Chicago at Close Wednesday, Off Cent
and Quarter Today

A PUBLIC BUYING CRAZE

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Wheat dropped three cents on the first few moments of trading from yesterday's close of $2.05 a bushel. This initial opening today was at $2.03, and an outburst of selling drove it down another cent.

Many holders dropped their grain to take advantage of large "paper" profits piled up during the past few weeks. Prices strengthened and May wheat closed at $2.03.

A public buying craze, stimulated by reports of a world wheat shortage and stories of immense wealth piled up by speculators have combined to drive May wheat up to the highest peace time price in 50 years.
Leading grain men are agreed.

Gray Silver, president of the Grain Marketing Company, the leading farmers co-operative organization warned that "extreme caution is necessary." He believes present prices now are "debatable ground."

James A. Patten, who years ago cornered the wheat market, said the public seemed to be "going crazy" Patten, declaring he got out of the market when wheat sold at $1.60 a bushel, said that prices on the Chicago Board were considerably below prices on the principal European wheat markets. He is inclined to discredit some of the stories of a European wheat shortage.

POULTRY SCHOOL OPENS

In Spite of Bad Weather, About Seventy Persons Attend First Session at Court House

LEROY JONES IS IN CHARGE

In spite of the bad weather, about seventy persons were in attendance when the two-day poultry school opened in the court house assembly room this morning at ten o'clock, and with such an indication of interest in the school, it was felt that this number would be more than doubled at some of the sessions.

The school is in charge of Leroy Jones of Purdue and arrangements were made by a committee composed of Paul Glisson of Anderson township, Fred McCrory of Union township and William Reeves of Center township.

"Feeding Hens for Economical Production" and "Secrets of Successful Pullet Raising" were the subjects under discussion this morning, and this afternoon the general topics were "Common Sense Prevention of Diseases" and "Remodeling the Poultry House."

At 9:30 Friday morning a conference will be held by Mr. Jones with demonstration farm co-operators, followed by a discussion of a breeding plan to increase egg production. At this time there will be poultry judging and laboratory work.
"Hatching and Rearing Chickens" will be the afternoon topics and the school will close with an egg grading demonstration.

MEETS IN SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

Ripley Township Farm Bureau
Hears H. R. Nevins of Martinsville

Approximately seventy-five persons were in attendance at the regular monthly meeting of the Ripley Township Farm Bureau, which was held Wednesday evening in the new school auditorium.

The principal address was delivered by H. R. Nevins, a farmer of near Martinsville, who spoke on "The Activities of the Indiana Farm Bureau."

Special numbers consisted of a solo by Miss Alice Piersol, supervisor of music in the Rush county schools, and three excellent readings by Miss Grace Overman of Carthage.
Both the musical number and readings were well received.

I. & C. PURCHASES BUS LINE

Takes Over Company Between Indianapolis and Shelbyville

Officials of the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company have announced the purchase of a motor bus line between Indianapolis and Shelbyville. The line was operated by Roy C. Lee of Shelbyville, who also maintained an extension from Indianapolis to Bloomington. It is understood that the traction company only acquired the Indianapolis and Shelbyville portion of the line, and they will continue to operate the eight round trip schedule, until other plans are made.

The traction line is following other electric carriers in establishing bus traffic, as at present time the Interstate and T. H. I. & E. own and operate bus lines in conjunction with traction service.

U. S. TROOPS HELD READY TO RUSH TO SHANGHAI

Force in Philippines in Readiness in Case American Lives Are Endangered

SITUATION GROWING SERIOUS

Washington, Jan. 29.—The United States is holding troops ready in the Philippine Islands, to rush if necessary to Shanghai where the situation has developed to serious proportions within the last twenty-four hours, endangering American lives and property.

All available American naval vessels and marine in the vicinity have been dispatched to Shanghai. The citizen volunteers corps of the foreign settlement of Shanghai has been fully mobilized to preserve order.

American, British and other foreign battleships are patrolling the harbor.

Danger of an anti-foreign outbreak is eminent in connection with looting and incendiaries of disorganized Chinese troops who are retracing to the city.

The American and foreign forces now in Shanghai are ready to be dispatched there and are ready to protect foreigners, but property destruction seems inevitable, according to authentic reports.

LEGISLATURE AT ROUTINE BUSINESS

Speed Limit of Automobiles on Country Highways Raised to 30
Miles in House Bill

HOUSE HAS BANK BANDIT BILL

Provides For Death or Life Imprisonment as Penalty—Stricter Penalties For Burglary

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29.—The state legislature got down to routine business today and disposed of a number of minor affairs.

Speed limit of automobiles on country highways would be increased from 25 to 30 miles an hour in a bill passed by the house.

The Hodge senate bill taking the mandatory features out of one change of venue laws was killed by the senate.

A measure providing for death or life imprisonment as a penalty for bank banditry was introduced in the house. A similar bill is now before the senate. Three bills providing stricter penalties against burglary were also introduced.

One would increase the penalty to from ten to twenty years imprisonment and to from fifteen to twenty-five years if the burglar had a weapon in his possession at the time of the crime.

Another would provide a penalty from two to fourteen years imprisonment for the possession of burglary tools.

The third would provide a penalty of twenty to forty years for safe blowing.

Another struggle over the childprotection bill loomed when Rep. Lee of New Paris introduced a motion to reconsider amendments adopted yesterday.

Consideration of the Homer eugenics bill for sterilization of socially inadequate persons was delayed until the senate meetings in secret session this afternoon, with visitors excluded.

The "blue Sunday" bill providing for rigid observance of the Sabbath was headed for the discard in the house today.

A similar fate was in prospect for the movie censorship bill and the bill to prohibit Sunday baseball.

The house morals committee expected to report today or tomorrow on the three measures following a public hearing Wednesday.

Representative Russell Duncan of Indianapolis, chairman of the committee, said the majority report would recommend indefinite postponement.

COMMANDERY IS VISITED

Rushville commandery No. 49, Knights Templar, was visited Wednesday evening by Will Suckow of Franklin, grand senior warden of Indiana, and James Randall of Greencastle, past grand commander.
The red cross degree was given and a smoker was enjoyed after the work.

SUFFERS BROKEN LEG

Mrs. Grant Hinchman of Falmouth, sustained a broken right leg last Friday afternoon, when she accidentally fell over a chair at her

BUDGET BOARD IS SLICING REQUESTS

Approximately $9,000,000 Looped Off Amounts Asked by State Institutions and Departments

PRUNING KNIFE IS ACTIVE

Total of $25,000,000 Requested
Whittled Down to $16,000,000,
Which is Less Than in 1923

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29.—Cuts of millions of dollars in requests of state institutions and departments for appropriations have been made by the state budget committee in recommendations prepared for presentation to Governor Jackson and the legislature, it was learned today.

Requests of all departments and institutions, except the highway commission, totalling approximately $16,000,000.

The highway department requests have been cut from $17,100,000 annually to approximately $15,000,000 annually. This figure includes $5-000,000 of federal aid money.

The total appropriations exceeding the highway commission, recommended by the committee will be about $1,000,000 less than those of two years ago.

Indiana and Purdue universities and the state normal schools will be kept within the five cent tax levy by the budget appropriations committee, it was said.

The appropriations will be made on the basis of two cents each for Indiana and Purdue and one cent to the two branches of the normal at Muncie and Terre Haute, it was said.

This amounts to $1,000,000 each for the two universities and $250-000 each for the two normal schools.

Indications were that approximately $6,000,000 would be allowed for new roads on a basis of $30-000 per mile for hard surface roads.

This is approximately the sum expended by the highway commission during the past two years' road building program.

The question of whether the legislature can appropriate the federal aid to the highway commission is now before the attorney general for decision, it was said.

In changing various specific funds into the state general fund for the purpose of making appropriations, the budget commission has not anticipated the cost of the legislature in changing offices, according to information.

Such funds as students fees and others like fees at the state universities will be thrown into the general fund, but endowments cannot be so designated.

The conservation department appropriation is made on the basis of the same expenditures as in 1923.
Total disbursements for the department for the past two years ran approximately $400,000.

The budget commission, it was learned, is not making any slashes in general departmental appropriations, basing the budgets on outlays for the past two years.

It was stated on high authority that creation of the state board of safety was in no way an economy measure and that approximately the same appropriations would be made for the various departments brought under control of the budget.

The difference, however, is that the fees from insurance inspection and like fees will be thrown into the general fund and will be appropriated direct from it.

ENGINE AND TRACTOR STUDIED

Approximately Fifty Men Here for Two Day School Closing Wednesday

Approximately fifty men attended the tractor school which was held here Tuesday and Wednesday, one or both days. Ray Fulkerson, who was with the International Harvester company for 26 years, was sent here by Purdue university to conduct the school.

It was held at Oneal Brothers place of business and this firm provided a gas engine which was studied. The Chas. F. Taylor Co., provided a Fordson tractor which had been used for four years, for study Wednesday. The tractor was torn down and the parts studied.

AMERICA IS MECCA FOR ALL INSECTS

Some of Causes For Insects Are Large Acres of Same Crops and Climate Conditions

TRANSPORTATION IS CAUSE

More Than Half of Serious Pests Have Been Brought in From Foreign Countries

America, the mecca for immigrants is likewise the mecca for insects of all kinds, according to a statement made by the Department of Entomology of Purdue University. Farmers, fruit growers and gardeners have in recent years had reason to believe that insects are most important as pests on the North American continent but few realize the reasons for this condition.

The reasons may be explained by an understanding of conditions as they exist on American farms, a knowledge of the fundamental principles of insect life and a correlation of these and other varying factors as are brought out in the courses of study in entomology at Purdue, both in the curriculum of the regular four-year agricultural course and in the annual eight weeks short-course which begins January 19, 1925.

Briefly, some of the causes for these conditions are the large acreage of the same or related crops, and favorable climatic conditions. The destruction of insect eating birds and mammals probably has had some effect. Many insects which formerly secured their livelihood from native plants have gone over to cultivated plants and become destructive because their native host was being killed out or because the cultivated hosts were preferred. Thus, the Colorado potato beetle originally fed only on the wild solanums of the western foothills.

Of all causes, transportation has probably been more responsible for America's insect problems than any other factor. More than half of the serious pests were brought in from foreign countries and usually without the natural enemies which usually hold them in reasonable check in their native haunts. Thus the San Jose scale, one of the worst orchard pests in Indiana was introduced into America at San Jose, California on plants brought in from China, and from there it was carried across the continent to a New Jersey nursery and in this way was soon scattered everywhere. In other cases, climatic factors govern spread after a new insect is introduced. Thus the Mexican bean beetle, introduced into Alabama a few years ago has rapidly spread northeasterly with the wind and now occurs in southern Indiana and throughout Ohio. A better knowledge of these and other factors would no doubt enable farmers better to utilize practices to prevent much trouble in the future.

Keep Out of the Puddles

COURTLY Sir Walter Raleigh—cynic, savant and first-class fighting man—desired a favor from good Queen Bess. A puddle in the queen's path made his opportunity. Across it he flung his costly cloak. Her majesty, smiling at his devotion, trod on, dry shod, and Sir Walter's unique self-advertising produced results.

Though most advertising is less spectacular today, it is far more serviceable. It smooths out the every-day pathways of each one of us.

Because of advertising, luxuries and necessities that once would have been worth a king's ransom are yours at little cost. Advertising pits merchant against merchant, artisan against artisan, manufacturer against manufacturer. This competition brings out the best there is in everything for your personal benefit.

You wouldn't know about many boons of modern life were it not for advertising. That is why you are not taking full advantage of the better things in life today if you consistently overlook the advertisements.

Jasper M. Travis, 50, of Cedar Rapids, Ia., who drove the last stage coach into New York City from Scranton, Pa., in March, 1855, says mail bandits were common then, too. He and George Decker of Deckerstown, N. Y., in letters to one another, both recall the day Travis' coach was held up near Carbondale, Pa. Two of the robbers later were shot and the third sent to prison.

Stop Night Coughing This Simple Way

People who have persistent, annoying coughing spells at night, and who through loss of valuable sleep are weakening their systems and laying themselves open to dangerous infections, can stop their distressing trouble promptly by a very simple treatment. Hundreds who have hardly been able to rest at all for coughing, have gotten their full night's sleep the very first time they tried it.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The result is that you usually sleep as soundly as a babe the very first night, and the entire cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription is highly recommended for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children's coughs and spasmodic croup—no harmful drugs, economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. It is on sale at all good druggists. Ask for

Due to Soil Fertility Produced by By-Product of Dairying, Says Creamery Institute

BASED ON CAREFUL RECORDS

Rush county is richer yearly by $120,000 because of the soil fertility produced as a by-product of dairying, according to the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. The figure is based on data resulting from many carefully kept records on a considerable number of farms.

The average quantity of manure recovered for use on crop lands in the area studied was 7.4 tons per cow, and since the fertilizing value of a ton of manure of $2.60 the by-product value of each cow is approximately twenty dollars. The application of this figure to the 6,000 dairy cattle in this county brings the total added value to the soil fertility here to the almost unbelievable figure given above.

In keeping with its better feeding program the Institute estimates that from 25 per cent to 50 per cent greater profit from each ton of feed can be made by local farmers who milk cows through improved feeding methods, alone. This was demonstrated, it states, by the experiment recently concluded by the University of Minnesota. The school's dairy division about a year ago purchased four average cows with available records but without a scientific feeding ration and by merely placing them on a home-grown ration suitable to their needs, increased each cow's production almost forty per cent.

God's Wonderful Love:—For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. John 3:16.

A Weighty Question

Uncle Sam is still insisting that we carry the new silver "Peace Dollars" around in our pockets, instead of their paper bills.

The country's vaults are bursting with the $20,000,000 "cartwheel" that are stored, waiting to be used.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has declared war on the paper bill for economy's sake, but Mr. American Citizen continues to object because of the weight. A man with fifteen silver dollars is pretty well freighted.

The new silver dollars are works of art. It is related. The head of the Goddess of Liberty appears on one side and an eagle and "E. Pluribus Unum" on the other. Millions of them are being shipped to the federal reserve banks to break the back of the greenback.

At present about 60,000,000 silver simoleons are in circulation. The others coined, about 360,000,000 in number are deposited in the treasury and silver certificates issued for their face value. Of those in circulation, however, only about one-fourth are in pockets and pocketbooks, the others being on deposit in federal reserve and other banks. These 20,000,000 or so are in circulation almost entirely in the western states, where one dollar bills are virtually unknown.

Paper dollars cost 17 cents to make and keep in circulation, treasury experts figure. Their life is never more than 11 months, and usually they are worn out by the end of six months. Silver dollars cost more to make, but upkeep is nothing and their life is indefinite.

The short life of the dollar bill is shown by the fact that 48,000,000 of them are printed and put into circulation every month. Several plans for "seasoning" the bills instead of issuing them immediately after printing have not been put into effect, because of the tremendous demand for the paper money.

The treasury's present aim is to break down part of the American prejudice against the silver dollar and put between 40 and 50 million of them in circulation. This will save the government $828,000 annually in its minting expenses, and will allow "seasoning" of the bills used so, as to prolong their life.

Government departments have been asked to use silver in payment of their employees throughout the nation, and field officers of some departments have agreed to use silver dollars for all odd amounts in sums under $5. The federal reserve banks have been asked to circularize their member banks asking co-operation and assistance.

Pettness

Nothing retards a community like pettness among its business men or people.

Yet how many towns and small cities are free from its influence?

It is related that not so long ago, in a certain city of about 5,000 inhabitants, the merchants on one side of the court house square banded together to hold a special sale.

They secretly organized their advertising campaign and expected to take their competitors by surprise and net a big profit for themselves.

As they should have had judgment enough to know, the sale was a big failure in not coming up to their expectations and was harmful to the town because of the bad feeling it engendered among the other merchants.

Nothing is ever accomplished when the vision of a community's business men and its people is so narrow that everything done is only for personal gain.

Helpful co-operation is the only key to community success, and until this lesson is learned, no community is going to progress very far.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—A new national shrine, which will become second only in historic interest to Mt. Vernon, former home of George Washington, will be developed by the restoration of the famous old Lee mansion in Arlington national cemetery.

Even now this old mansion, which with its massive Doric portico and immense stone pillars dominates the Virginia hills immediately across the Potomac from the Lincoln Memorial, is visited by a quarter million tourists yearly.

But it is only the shell of the home in which southern chivalry and hospitality found their highest development that they see today.

The great rooms are bare and empty. Stripped of all furnishings, there is little to suggest the warmth and cheer and charm they must have held during the proud days when George Washington Parke Custis, who had been adopted as a son by General Washington, entertained there with a lavishment surpassing anything even Mt. Vernon had ever known.

NOW the House has passed a bill authorizing the restoration of the old Arlington mansion to the condition in which it existed during the days of the Lee family, and to obtain so far as possible for this purpose the original furnishings and equipment used by the Lees. It is to be hoped the Senate will add its approval.

The restoration of Arlington, in fact, would carry forward as part of a united scheme for perpetuating historic associations the work so far done at Mt. Vernon.

Washington Letter

For there is a most intimate connection between Arlington and Mt. Vernon, which the public generally does not now know.

THE builder of Arlington Park Custis, grandson of Martha Washington, John Parke Custis, his father, died at the steps of Yorktown.

General Washington, who wedded the widow Custis, John Parke's mother, adopted as his own the two Custis children (grandchildren of Mrs. Washington), George Washington Parke Custis and Eleanor Custis, better known as "Nelly" Washington.

Young Custis was a member of the Mt. Vernon household from the time of his adoption until after the death of Mrs. Washington in 1802. Then he removed to his Arlington estate and, in 1809, built Arlington House.

GEORGE WASHINGTON PARKE CUSTIS, in the drawing room at Arlington, in the summer of 1811, Mary Custis became the bride of a young lieutenant in the U. S. army—Robert E. Lee.

Twenty years later, Custis had died and his daughter, Mary Custis Lee, had inherited Arlington. Civil War is declared between north and south. Robert E. Lee, now a colonel in the U. S. A., resigns from the federal service to take command of Virginia troops and later become commander-in-chief of the Confederate armies.

Today the Lee estate is Arlington National Cemetery. And with its restoration, the old Lee home will be a center of increased interest to the thousands who go there daily to visit the burial place of our dead of three wars.

Your Income Taxes

Federal Law's Provisions Explained and Questions Regarding Specific Applications of the Statute Answered by Expert.

(This is the fourth of a series of articles, dealing with the income tax and provisions of the new law.)

Thus far in the series we have discussed who is subject to tax, who must file a return, and what exemptions are allowed. We can now consider the questions of when and where the returns must be filed.

Returns prepared on a calendar year basis, as is the case with most returns, must be filed on or before March 15 of the following year. Returns covering the calendar year 1924, therefore, must be filed not later than March 15, 1925.

Returns may also be prepared on what is known as a fiscal year basis. A fiscal year means a period of twelve months ending on the last day of any month other than December. Thus, the period from February 1 to the next January 31 would be a fiscal year, or May 1 to the next April 30.

In the case of returns made on a fiscal year basis, the returns must be filed by the 15th day of the third month following the close of the fiscal year ending January 31, the return would be due by the next April 15, and if the fiscal year ended on May 31, the return would be due by the next August 15.

It is important to bear in mind, however, that the only time returns can be prepared on a fiscal year basis is where the taxpayer's books are kept on that basis. If no books are kept, the return must be made on a calendar year basis.

Now as to where returns must be filed. It is provided in the law that returns must be filed with the Collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which the taxpayer resides, or he may, if he desires, file the return in the district where he has his principal place of business. The country is divided into sixty-five collection districts, each supervised by a collector of Internal Revenue, and it is with that officer for the taxpayer's district that the return must be filed. If a person has no legal residence or place of business in the United States the return must be filed with the Collector at Baltimore, Md.

Let us now consider the tax rates. The net income of an individual may be subject to two taxes; a normal tax and a surtax. The normal tax rates begin at 2% for the first $4,000 of income in excess of the exemptions, then go to 4% on the next $4,000 of income, and finally 6% on the rest of the net income.

Thus, if a married individual, with no dependents, had a net income of $15,500, his normal tax would be computed as follows: the exemption of $2,500 is first deducted, leaving $13,000, subject to the normal tax. On the first $4,000 of this $13,000 a 2% tax is imposed or $80. On the next $4,000, the rate is 4% or $160. On the rest of the income or $5,000, the rate is 6% or $300 making the entire normal tax $540.

It is interesting to note that the normal tax rates this year are much less than what they were last year. Under the law that then existed, the tax was 4% on the first $4,000, in excess of the exemption, and 8% on the balance.

Then there is the surtax. The surtax rates range from 1% to 40%, depending on the size of the income. The lowest rate begins with incomes over $10,000. In other words, where an individual has a net income of less than $10,000, he need not pay any surtax at all. The income between $10,000 and $14,000 is subject to a 1% surtax, or $40. The income between $14,000 and $16,000 is subject to a 2% surtax; and so on up the line. Income in the $16,000 bracket is subject to 3%; $20,000; 38%; $30,000; 39%; and $50,000 or over, the maximum of 40%.

These rates are considerably less than what was imposed last year, when the maximum rate was 50%. Last year, the maximum tax rates were 58%, 50% for surtax, and 8% for normal tax. This year the maximum tax rates are 46%-40% for surtax and 6% for normal tax.

The total of the normal tax and the surtax represents the total income tax that is due, except for the special treatment accorded so-called earned income, capital gains and losses, and certain credits that are allowed. These will be explained in detail in subsequent articles.

Estates and trusts being rewarded as individuals, are subject to tax at the same rates as already outlined. Corporations, however, pay a flat tax of 12½% on their net incomes in excess of the exemption.

The difference between the tax rates on individuals and those on corporations immediately brings up the question as to the advisability of carrying on business under the one form or another. An individual does not come into the 12½% rate class until his income is about $25,000. If his income is less than that, it is obviously to his advantage to do business as a sole proprietor, because the maximum tax rate would be less than 12½% rate imposed on corporations. However, if his income exceeded $25,000, he would ordinarily be better off doing business as a corporation, since the rate of the corporate tax is 12½%. Thus, an individual having a $100,000 income would have to pay a tax of about $23,000 because of the high surtax rates. A corporation, however, making $100,000 pays a tax of only $12,500, resulting in a saving of $10,500 through the corporate form.

There are many other factors to consider, such as salaries, dividends, etc., that need be carefully studied in each particular case. As a general proposition, however, it can be said that where the income is in excess of $25,000, one is better off from a federal income tax standpoint, doing business as a corporation, and where the income is less than that amount, it is best to carry on business as a sole proprietor.

In the next article, the subject of earned income and how it affects the computation of the tax will be discussed.

How about a large juicy roast for dinner tomorrow? If you want it you will have to pay the regular price for it, because pork or any other kind of meat for that matter has not reduced a cent here on the retail market. Although hogs dropped this week as low as 7½ cents once this down they are gradually rising again and it is very probably that they will be back to the old price in a few days.

SICK WOMEN

Read this Remarkable Testimony Regarding Results from Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Norfolk, Virginia.—"If you only knew how many women and girls have taken your medicine by hearing my testimony, it would seem wonderful to you. Every day and every chance I have I advise some one to try it. It was in June, 1904, when I had grown up to never get well, that I wrote to you. My husband went to the drug-store and brought the Vegetable Compound home to me. In a few days I began to improve and I have often taken it since. I am now passing through the Change of Life and still stick by it and am enjoying wonderful health. When I first started with your medicines I was a mere shadow. My health seemed to be gone. The last doctor I had said he would give me no more local treatments unless I went to the Hospital and was operated on. That was when I gave the doctors up. Now I am a healthy robust woman. I wish I could tell the world what a wonderful medicine Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is. I will be only too glad to answer letters from anywhere. I wish all sick women would take it."—Mrs. J. A. Jones, 317 Colley Avenue, Norfolk, Virginia.

BOSTON BRAVES ARE REJUVENATED

Old Timers on the Squad Will be Bench Warmers While Rookies Will Have Chance to Start

SQUAD NUMBERS 35 PLAYERS

Average Age is 25 Years and Many Minor League Clubs Have Donated Some of the New Players

By FOSTER EATON (U. I. Staff Correspondent) (Copyright 1925, by U. I.)

Boston, Mass., Jan. 29.—The Red Sox baseball team, which, with the possible exception of the Braves, provides more laughs per annum, than Will Rogers and Andy Gump combined, is undergoing something in the way of a monkey-gland operation, calculated to inject new life into an aggregation that thinks the idea of the game is to finish in eighth place.

Just now it's as impossible to forecast the probable line-up as it is to estimate the number of hits Babe Ruth will break in trying to break his batting record.

But some things are certain and among them for the fact that, as in the case of that weaker sister, the Braves, veteran players must warm benches or go elsewhere while rookies from the colleges and minors try to convince a skeptical public that the Red Sox really should be taken seriously.

Youth must be served and the once famous old-timers who made their debut when the catcher was the only player who wore a place, must now be surprised if they receive eviction notices.

This is to be a year of rejuvenation both for the Sox and the Braves. Babe Quinn, chief mogul of Boston's American League club said today he had 37 players on the roster and that the average age was only 23.

Manager Lee Fohl will take his veterans and warriors to New Orleans March 1 for spring training. The present outlook indicates that Jack Hering and Val Pichelli will divide backstop work. But it is perfectly possible that A. J. Stakes, who hails from Mobile, will have a hand in the catching with.

Eight right-handers and four left-handers will comprise the pitching staff. They include Elmer, Quinn, Fullerton, Ferguson, Murray, Woods, Pierce, Ruffler, Kallio, Lacey, Wingfield and Kiefer.

Kallio comes from the Pacific Coast League, Winfield from Chattanooga and Kiefer from Bay City, Mich. All are promising rookies.

Fohl and Ross are the veteran southpaws and White and Jamerson are the newcomers in this class.

Phil Tolt seems likely to call first base "home" this season. Bill Wauss, who once made a triple misstep, probably will start at second, though 19-year-old Bill Regell may give the older bill a lot of competition.

Young Prothero, purchased from Washington, is expected to start at third, while Dudley Lee, Geygan, and Gross will fight it out for the shortstop position. Ira Flagstead, like Boone and Denn's Williams are the probable outfielders.

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

"Prepare to meet thy fate, Greensburg," is the word coming from the Lion's den this week. They are getting tuned up right this week, and by Friday night something will sure be doing.

Only 100 persons from here can be accommodated at Greensburg. If you can't be one of the 100 then attend the county tourney that begins here on that night. Let's fill the county stable, and welcome all of the animals.

Manilla Issues Warning

Dear Hittin' 'em: Manilla H. S. hasn't showed a great deal in some of the games, or at the Carthage tourney, but we have been holding out, and don't forget that Manilla always finishes "fast." Remember last year, when Manilla took the Lions into camp in the tourney game? Well, that is just the way we are going to play this week, and upset some county team. Watch us! Yours, GREEN-EYED FAN

Speaking of Sports, down at Washington, goes back into ancient history and lists all of the games played between Vincennes and Washington since 1914. Of the 18 games played, Washington has won half of them. Many were close scores. In the year 1917 Washington triumphed 4 times over Vincennes, but in recent years—well Vincennes has made up for it.

Washington plays at Vincennes February 6. Washington has won 15 straight games, and they are now singing, "Alice will be sweet sixteen on February 6"

Martin' 'em up at Newcastle extends newspaper representatives a hearty welcome to the Sixth District tourney to be held in his city next year, promising all press representatives that they will find a welcome on the door mat from all officials. He adds also that no newspaper man will be a prominent official on the bench, "because we have a rule here that newspaper men are to see, and not be seen." There is one in particular that likes to be seen, and this fellow thinks a great deal of Russellville. Here is what he says:

THE GRAHAM CRACKERS AND THE THREE CITY FIVE WILL DO EVERYTHING BUT PLAY BASKETBALL THIS FRIDAY NIGHT—IT WILL BE A TWO-FISTED JEFFERSON AFFAIR.

Sure the above little love tap was from Free Throws in the Free Press over at Connersville, Sham on you, Emmett.

Carthage Took Moscow

Just 15 years ago this week-end, Carthage hi played Moscow, according to our "15 year ago Column." The Carthage basketball team is elated over the result of the game Tuesday night in which Moscow was defeated 19 to 16, says the Carthage Citizen. It was the last game in the White building which has been leased by L. D. Gardner for a meat market. So far the boys have been unable to obtain another room and may be compelled to discontinue playing here.

Shortridge with 13 straight victories goes to Martinsville Friday night. No, they both can't win, someone will have to drop out. Who do you pick?

The Morton High seconds anchor their hopes at Russellville next Saturday night. The Rush county yearlings were easy on the indoor field but they are expected to be "tough customers" on the small Russellville court. —Richmond Palladium.

The Russellville seconds also play the curtain raiser Friday night down at Greensburg, and as the game ended 20 to 18 up here, the locals will try to trim 'em again.

PLAYS MUNCIE FRIDAY

Shelbyville is preparing to take a special car of rooters to Muncie Friday night. Even with 5 straight defeats, the fans down there are still having hopes of a comeback.

There is a scribe called Emmett. Watnwright is his name. What he likes best of all,

Muncie trounced Jefferson of Lafayette 39 to 30, and now Washington wants to climb up another notch on the Big Ten ladder, because Washington beat 'em 43 to 23.

Richmond announces their schedule for next season. In the list, they play at Russellville, January 9. They face many strong teams, and the game here is in the middle of the schedule.

HERE IS AN ODE TO MOSCOW

Moscow, Ind.

Dear Hittin' 'em:

Am sending a little poem dedicated to the Moscow high school basketball team:

MOSCOW TEAM

Moscow high school has a basketball team. And it generally has a lot of steam, Alec at center, with lots of speed, Whisman at guard, as little as a reed Coers is always right there too. When the ball's just aching to be put thru.

There are Thompson and Creel, who are forwards spry, And who always arch the ball so high.

Subs! Have they any? Well I should hope!

Headlee and Spaulding, that's the dope.

And Campbell and Cole, and there's Casey too.

I guess that's all, and I'm almost thru.

And now as I pause to bid you good-night.

All I ask of you team, is, "Fight, fight, fight."

Dear Hittin' 'em: Russellville basketball fans who are planning to attend the sessions of the Rush County Basketball Tourney which will be held in the R. H. S. Gymnasium this coming Friday and Saturday should buy their season tickets in advance. These tickets are good for the four sessions of the tourney and will entitle the holder to admission before the single sessions are sold for each session.

price of these tickets is $1 and each single admission will be 35c. E. B. B.

LAUREL 'EM TO HITTIN' 'EM

Greensburg wants to fill their gym to capacity Friday night, according to an invitation in the Greensburg News, asking for loyal support of their team. If the place only accommodates 300 persons, why Russellville could fill it without anyone from Greensburg being there.

This Should be a Lesson to All Fans

The thoughtless actions of a few basketball fans outside the student body of Anderson high school in boisterous "dazzling" of officials, has endangered the chances of Anderson obtaining any future sectional or regional basketball tournaments it is learned on good authority.

The excited, rude cries of a few Anderson fans during the Vincennes-Anderson game have aroused the ire of a few personages high in basketball standing, and it is learned on good authority that Anderson's chances to land other sectional and regional tournaments were small unless school officials succeeded in curbing the few fans of a rowdy class who are alleged to hurt the sportsmanlike spirit of Anderson with their actions. —Anderson Bulletin.

Muncie, for some reason or another likes to boost Newcastle high. Newcastle played at Muncie recently and lost 31 to 19. "Watchin' the Fools" in the Muncie Press says that the Newcastle team stacks up well with Frankfort and some of the other first raters. We'll see for ourselves in February, for Newcastle is booked to appear here. —Republican, Shelbyville.

Newcastle is plenty tough, Shelby, and don't take anything for granted in this year of unsettled basketball dope.

Life's worries—To write something about a basketball game that

Many Players Lack Skill

By HENRY L. FAHRETTA (United States Sports Editor)

New York, Jan. 29.—All through the discussions of the Dolan-O'Connell baseball scandal, the light-hearted manner in which major league players looked upon the case was one of its most unusual features.

The players in general sympathize with Jimmie O'Connell and they feel that Commissioner Landis went to an unequalled extreme when he barred the young California outfielder for life because he had admitted offering a bribe to a Philadelphia shortstop. Dolan's case didn't arouse much sentiment among the players, because Dolan was not popular. O'Connell was hardly more than a kid just breaking into the only business that he knew. Dolan was an old hand at the game who was principally the detective for John McGraw when he was not passing signals along from the coaching line.

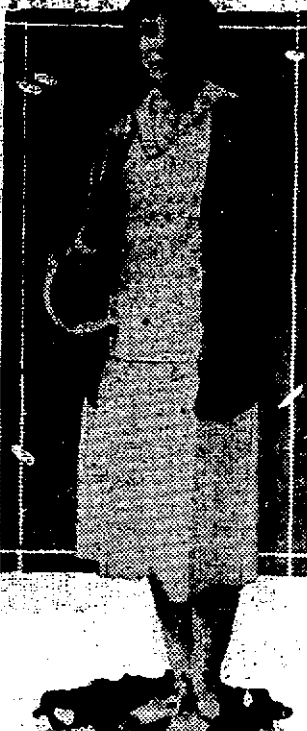

Many of the players still insist that O'Connell was made the victim of a practical joke and that too much seriousness was attached to a situation that had nothing of the criminal nature in it.

One prominent major league manager said during the winter baseball meetings that Sand was a sap for playing the tattle-tale and telling Art Fletcher, manager of the Phils, that O'Connell had offered him $500 if he wouldn't bear down in one of the last games against the Giants. This manager said also that Fletcher in passing the story along to higher officials, did not live up to the human reputation he made when he was playing shortstop with the Giants.

The intellectual rating of the av-grange baseball player is not very high. It is surprising to learn in some cases that it is so very low. Take the case of Frank Frisch, captain of the Giants, a star player and a college graduate. When he was being examined by Commissioner Landis, after O'Connell had repented in his presence that Frisch knew Sand had been approached, Frisch said that it must have been a joke and that lots of jokes and hidings like that always happened on a pennant contending club.

Ross Young, Giant outfielder, who was mentioned by O'Connell as having had knowledge of the plot, testified that he had heard stories of fellows passing out money and things like that, but that he didn't have any knowledge of the O'Connell-Dolan case.

George Kelly, Giant first baseman, was also accused by O'Connell of having known that he made the offer to Sand and yet he went to California after the season closed and was ready to play on the same basketball team with the youngster who had noised him of being a part in baseball's greatest crime.

Sam Bohne, Cincinnati infielder, who is now the plaintiff in a suit against a publication that charged him with playing crooked baseball, also was signed to play on the same San Francisco basketball team with O'Connell, an outlaw.

After having had more experiences with such cases than the casual fan, it is no mystery what prompts John A. Heydler, president of the National League to say that he can't imagine the workings of some ball players' intellects.

Commissioner Landis acted quickly and drastically when he tossed O'Connell and Dolan out of baseball. O'Connell admitted his part, but Dolan couldn't remember and Landis said that his faulty memory was a proof of guilt and was as good as a confession.

Frisch, Young and Kelly were absolved for reasons that prove Landis to be a jurist. O'Connell said they were guilty and they said they weren't. With nothing but the word of one against the words of the others, Landis threw out O'Connell's story as it pertained to the other three and accepted it as it pertained to himself and Dolan.

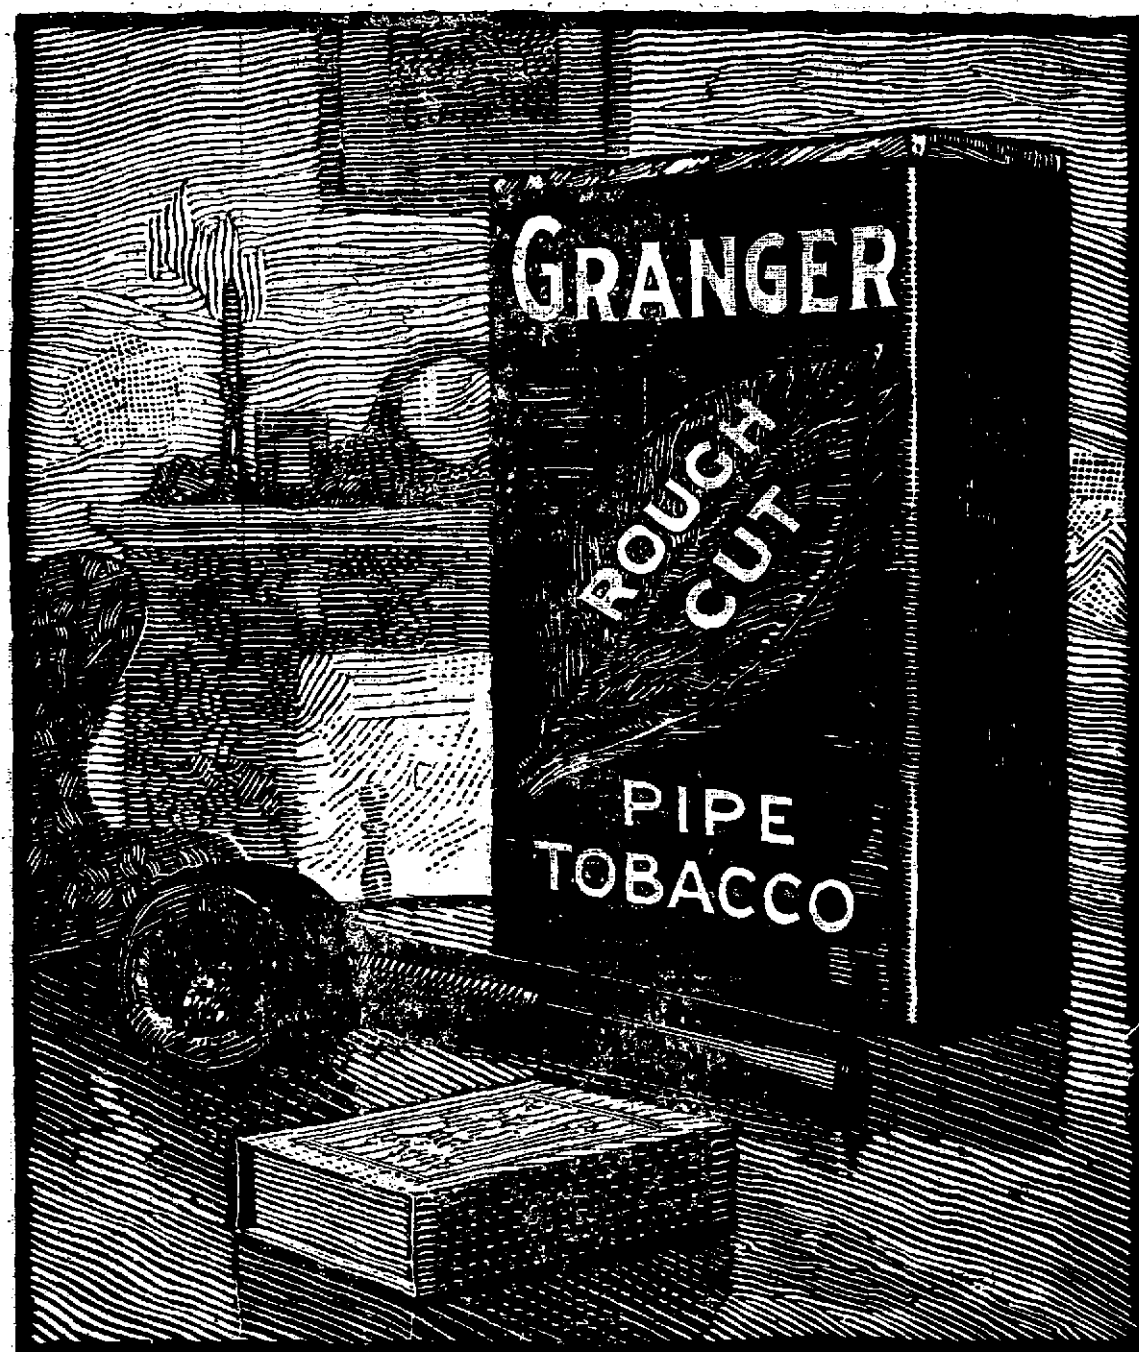

Perhaps the players, in recalling several incidents in the past, are partially right in holding that O'Connell "got the works" without any justification. Of course, Landis can't be held responsible for what happened in the past. If he had been on the job years ago there might have been only one scandal, because after the severity of his action in his first case, it's a bet that there will not be any more joking or kidding on any ball club about throwing games or buying games.

The inconsistency of baseball, which is no way to be blamed upon Landis, has been shown several times. Christy Mathewson, when he was manager of the Cincinnati Reds, accused Hal Chase of being crooked, but Mathewson's story was not accepted and Chase continued to play baseball and was taken up by the New York Giants when all baseball should have been at least suspicious of him.

Then there was the Herzog-Benton case. Benton said that Herzog had offered him money to blow a game when they were member of the New York Giants and Herzog said that Benton had offered him the money. No one could straighten out the tangle and they both continued to play organized baseball. Benton is still with the Cincinnati Reds.

Phil Douglas gave Landis his first case and the Commissioner jumped on him with both feet. Douglas wrote a letter to another player, offering to go fishing for a compensation and he was canned out of baseball. The Douglas case, however, never would have been brought to the attention of Landis if it was not thought that a press association had all the facts of the case and was about to publish them.

WILLOUGHBY GETS SALARY

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29—Attorney General Gilliam submitted an opinion to Louis Bowman, auditor of state, holding that Benjamin Willoughby is entitled to the salary of justice of supreme court from the first district. Terre Haute—The court dismissed the charge of failure to provide for his wife against Wesley Sanders, 50, when prosecutor Littlefield declared Sanders' wife appeared at the prosecutor's office well coated with paint and powder.

Hartford City—The "reign of terror" here continues unabated. Thieves broke into the tanks of the Standard Oil company and the Guy Brothers Filling Station and escaped with 75 gallons of gasoline while police were diligently guarding every other section of the city.

Alexandria—John Eddleblute, 73, told the judge he had never made whisky because his still always boiled over, following a plea of guilty to possessing a still. The case was taken under advisement.

Dunkirk — Excitement prevailed during the funeral of Clayton Cortright here. The floor of the crowded Trenton church caved in and mourners held their breath for fear the stove would topple over.

Clinton—A teaspoonful of liquor is not enough to convict a man, Judge C. E. Bingham, ruled withholding judgment against Ray Brushner, arrested by horse thief detectives.

Brazil—Clay county is now in its 100th year and it has been urged that civic clubs here make plans for a centennial celebration.

Fort Wayne—Because of the rapidly dwindling numbers of the members of the Lawton-Wayne and the Sion S. Bass posts of the G. A. R. here, the two posts combined into the Bass-Lawton post.

Valparaiso — Surveyors have started work to determine the boundary line between Porter and Jasper counties as fixed by the 1923 legislature.

Dana—A cylinder head in the gasoline engine used to pump water blow out while firemen were fighting a blaze at the home of M. M. Jones. Damage at the home was heavy as a result.

Washington—Roy King, of Pond, near here, claims the oldest violin in the state. The instrument was made by Jacob Stainer, a German, in 1639.

372 ACCIDENTS ON ROADS LAST YEAR

Continuous Appeal by Various Agencies to Drive Carefully Appears to Have Made Headway

33 PERSONS WERE KILLED

Fast Driving Was Attributed as Chief Cause of Accidents With Intoxication Second

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29—Continuous appeal by various agencies for the motoring public to drive carefully and sensibly at grade crossings, appears to have made some headway during 1924, according to accident figures compiled by the maintenance division of the state highway department, just submitted to John D. Williams, state road director.

"Our field organization can not obtain a report of every accident occurring on a state road," A. H. Hinkle, maintenance superintendent, explains, "but we obtain a report of the worst accidents and of all fatalities."

The report shows a total of 372 accidents for the fiscal year ending November 30, and of this number 160 are charged to fast driving.

While there were only five accidents the past year at steam road crossings, and five at electric line crossings, all five resulted in fatalities at the former and four fatalities at the latter. There were 16 accidents each at railroad and electric crossings reported by the highway department for 1923.

In the 372 accidents during 1924, the highway report shows that thirty-three persons were killed, and 197 injured, some seriously.

While fast driving is attributed as the chief cause of accidents, 39 were due to intoxicated drivers, 29 account of steep grades, 23 on sharp curves, 21 for lack of guard rails, 16 on slippery pavement, 13 account of deep side ditches, 25 due to glaring headlights, 41 because of narrow roads, and 14 attributed to miscellaneous causes.

Reviewing the season's accident toll, Mr. Williams points out that work by the department, such as

Costly "Thrill"

Another youthful "intellectual" is facing a long prison sentence just because he wanted a "thrill." Karl Peters, 19, of Wichita, Kas., is beginning to realize it was not worth the cost. While managing a large Kansas City rug plant and studying on the side for the diplomatic service, Peters joined in a drug store holdup. One of his companions shot and probably fatally wounded a detective. His father, a stock broker, formerly was in business in Louisville, Ky.

widening roads, easing curves and turns, building shoulders, widening culverts, etc is undoubtedly responsible for a 21 per cent decrease in fatal accidents compared with 1923.

"It will be further noted, he says, that collisions with narrow bridges are becoming more numerous. This is largely due, he explains, to the increase in automotive traffic and the fact that the commission can only, with funds at its command, replace a limited number of narrow bridges each year. The headwalls at each narrow bridge are battered where traffic has struck them, demonstrating the importance of extending these structures as soon as money is available.

MOM'N POP

Says Bill Increasing Mortgage Exemption Would not Reduce Taxes

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29.—Assertions by Senator Russell B. Harrison of Indianapolis and John F. Brown, chairman of the state board of tax commissioners, that increasing the mortgage exemption on real estate from $1,000 to $2,000 would result in $8,000,000 tax reduction were denied today by Senator Lambert of Columbus, author of the bill.

"The decrease will be approximately $900,000," said Senator Lambert. "Some of those statements are ridiculous and I am going to show up Brown's figures on the floor of the senate."

"The state tax board is against any and all decreases in income from taxes, because that is always the attitude of bureaucrats and commissioners. I have figures to show that last year the $1,000 exemption took off only $133,000 assessed valuation."

CROSS NUMBER PUZZLE

Instead of cross words—cross numbers! Here is something new in the fad that has gripped the nation. Numbers instead of letters, numbers that add to a definite sum, reading either way.

You need no dictionaries to look up sticklers, not even an arithmetic. For these numbers are just the first nine digits and each group totals 15. The puzzle form and numbering of the squares are similar to cross-word puzzles. But instead of definitions you get a group of numbers which are to be rearranged in the squares designated so that they will add up to 15 either horizontally or vertically, when the other groups are properly arranged.

Try it and see how you like it.

Movies

Galaxy of Brilliant Players

"If all motion pictures were as good as 'The Marriage Circle,' I'd go to the movies every day of my life."

That was the enthusiastic remark overheard in the lobby of the Castle theatre yesterday after the showing of this Ernst Lubitsch production, a picture that contains such a galaxy of brilliant players as Marie Prevost, Monte Blue, Florence Vidor, Adolphe Menjou, Harry Myers and Creighton Hale.

You will wait a long time before you see a better picture than "The Marriage Circle." It is at once sophisticated and simple, humorous and serious, with its story of a discontented rich wife who begins to make things hum when she takes a fancy to the husband of her old girlhood chum. It doesn't matter one whit to Mizzie that the husband is very much in love with his own wife; no! she's too much women to see the logic of that, and she begins to turn things topsy turvy domestically.

Last Showing Today

Constance Talmadge brought a new comedy, "Her Night of Romance," to the screen at the Princess theatre last night. It was a highly sophisticated satire on English society and provoked gales of laughter from the audience.

Connie, as flippant and scintillating as ever, appears in the role of an American heiress who dons school teacher's "specs" and straight-laced demien in order to avoid fortune hunters while touring abroad with her father.

It chances that she bumps into a young English lord in London who is being hounded by his money-lender, and they become involved in one of those seemingly impossible but, nevertheless, real life situations where it is necessary for them to pose as newlyweds to avoid an impending scandal.

The situation finally clarifies itself, of course, but not before the young couple endure an amazing and highly amusing series of incidents. Constance introduces a new leading man in the person of Roland Colman, an English actor who acquits himself in the role of the British nobleman admirably. Others in the cast who do good work are Albert Gran, Jean Hersholt, Sidney Bracy, Joseph Dowling and Templar Saxe.

COMPARE YOUR BILLS

Some folks are led to believe that great savings can be effected by buying at no-service stores. All we ask is, compare your bills, price for price, quality for quality, SERVICE for SERVICE. We believe that you will find that the cash saving has been practically nothing, that a great many times you have been disappointed in the quality of the goods bought, and besides you have missed the benefit of the advantages we offer in the way of service.

STANDARD NUT MARGARINE

Your choice of Colored or Uncolored Colored Standard overcomes all of the prejudice that folks used to have against oleo. You can't tell it from creamery butter. The uncolored is just the same without the coloring.
